HOTELMEN MAY OPERATE CLUBS

Vancouver Council Grants Licences to Most of Landlords in City to Run Clubs on Premises

NEW REGULATIONS IN EFFECT FRIDAY

Seventy-Two Out of 140 Applications for Clubs Are Approved—Practically All the Clubs Are Beer Clubs

VANCOUVER, June 1.—Seventy-two clubs out of 140 applications will be licensed by the city to do business in accordance with the recommendations of Mr. Charles Jones, Chief License Inspector, as presented to a special meeting of the council this afternoon. The licenses come into effect today. The licenses granted by the city do not give the clubs the right to sell beer or liquors, for the city has nothing to do with the regulation of the Liquor Act.

Beer in Lockers

However, recent court decisions give clubs the right to carry beer in special lockers kept for each individual member, and this bear may be handled over the bar on payment of small metal "tokens."

So that in effect practically all clubs will be beer clubs.

Most of the hotelmen will be granted licences by the city to operate clubs on their premises.

In Business Section

All clubs will be confined to the business section of the city. Applications have been received from many persons in the residential sections, including one applicant who wished to establish a club in his suite in an apartment block.

WILL NOT BUILD COAST LINE NOW

SIR HENRY THORNTON STATES REASONS FOR DECISION

Informs Native Sons of Canada That Railway Cannot Connect Sooke and Port San Juan as Desired

That there is no possibility whatever of the Canadian National Railways being able at the present time to undertake the construction of a short line railway to connect with the present line at or near Sooke to a point at or near Port San Juan, as was requested of the railway company in a resolution recently passed by the Victoria Assembly No. 1, Native Sons of Canada, is the information that Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, has communicated to the local branch of this organization.

Sir Henry Thornton, in his letter to the Native Sons of Canada, says that as its members were probably aware, the amount of money available for the Canadian National Railways for the construction of branch lines is quite limited. The railway's policy, in connection with the available funds, he points out, is to spend it to obtain the greatest benefit to the largest number of people.

"The request for a branch line from Sooke to or near Port San Juan will mean a line approximately 43 miles in length. The country traversed by such a line is very rugged and would probably entail a cost of at least $3,500,000. The rich natural resources of this district," writes Sir Henry Thornton, "go without saying, but without a population to develop them, they would offer no revenue to the railroad."

He points out that the railway has already 90 miles of railroad on Vancouver Island running through districts with vast natural resources, but on account of the lack of people to develop them, the business to the railroad from this line is very small, and not only does not carry the interest on the cost of construction, but comes nowhere near paying the actual out of pocket maintenance and operation.

Sir Henry Thornton holds that until further development has taken place along the existing line of the Canadian National Railways on Vancouver Island, and gives the railroad more traffic there, any expenditure for a new line on the Island would seem unwarranted.

"Although, ultimately, it is hoped that we may be in a position to serve the country in question, at present, I regret to say, there seems no possibility whatever of being able to undertake the construction of a line from Sooke to Port San Juan." Sir Henry Thornton concludes.

NO MOVE MADE TO DEVELOP B. C. AREA

Progressive Member for Kootenay East Brings Matter Before House of Commons

OTTAWA, June 1.—Developments of an area lying half in the Province of British Columbia and half in the State of Idaho, was referred to in the House tonight during discussion of a vote of $129,000 for the reclamation of Dominion lands by drainage.

Mr. L. W. Humphrey, Progressive, Kootenay East, said this was a matter for international negotiation, and both the Province and the State were delaying the work of development on account of these negotiations. What progress was being made? he asked.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, said there was no record of such negotiations in the Department.

Warns State Bankers Of Growing Danger From Red Radicalism

Professor Bissett, of Washington University, in Brilliant Address, Points Out Responsibilities of Delegates and Deplores Apparent Lack of Appreciation of Insidious Propaganda

MR. ECKSTEIN PLEADS FOR CESSATION OF KNOCKING

"YOUR responsibility to the nation does not end when your books balance. You owe your first duty, your highest duty, to the promotion and development of good citizenship."

The foregoing was one of the inspiring statements made yesterday afternoon to the delegates to the twenty-eighth annual convention of the Washington Bankers' Association, being held in the Empress Hotel, Victoria, by Mr. C. P. Bissett, professor of jurisprudence, University of Washington. A characteristic of Professor Bissett's masterly address was a wealth of vigor which left no doubt in the minds of those who composed his audience as to his sincerity. He is a brilliant speaker, and combines great personal magnetism with much force in delivery. He named the subject of his address, "The Responsibilities of the Banker to the Community," and added that perhaps there were some who would not be pleased with his message. But, he stated, he believed it was truth, and he had passed the age when fear of injured feelings would influence his conviction that his message was one that the members of the Bankers' Association should hear.

"Every man has one great common duty, and that is citizenship," he proceeded. "In answer to a recent questionnaire circulated in Seattle, ninety-one per cent of the answers indicated that the bankers of that city took no interest in the development of good citizenship. That is a record of which bankers should be infinitely ashamed."

Professor Bissett asserted that the grim giant of red radicalism was feverishly working throughout the length and breath of the United States and that the indifference to its alarming growths shown by those who were its natural enemies, was appalling. Red radicalism, he said, as the great and growing menace to American institutions and American representative government and the responsibility for that growth belonged to the members of the Washington Bankers' Convention and people like them.

Red Propaganda Spreading

"There is a tremendous system of red propaganda being spread throughout the United States that will shake the present system of banking to its foundations unless you, and those like you, rise in your might and shoulder your responsibilities. The people are looking to you to direct them, advise them, and protect them from the spectre of radicalism and bolshevism. The red propagationists set out their entire vote in all elections, but do you?"

The speaker dealt briefly with what he characterized the orgy of spending which was being carried on throughout the United States and he charged that one of the responsibilities that belonged to the bankers of the country was to eliminate such extravagance and promote in its stead a spirit of thrift, the building of character and all other traits that made for good citizenship.

"Woodrow Wilson, when he was president of the United States, said that he wanted to make the world safe for democracy," stated the

Commons Passes Indemnity Bill

LONDON, June 1.—The House of Commons today passed the third reading of the indemnity bill framed for the protection of Home Secretary Bridgeman in the cases brought against him by Art O'Brien and others deported to Ireland in the March raids.

A new clause and amendments of a restrictive character embodying concessions by the government were added to the measure.

BERRY GROWERS TURN DOWN OFFER

SEVEN CENTS PER POUND TOO LOW, MEMBERS DECIDE

First Real Contest in History of New Co-operative Market of Agricultural Products of Province

VANCOUVER, June 1.—Members of the Berry Growers' Co-operative Union of British Columbia have decided not to accept the price of seven cents per pound for strawberries from manufacturers and canners, it is announced. The price was fixed without reference to cost of production, which, it is stated, was placed at 9 cents per pound by the University of British Columbia.

Among those who have taken the stand against accepting the seven-cent price are S. Oka, secretary of the Haney Japanese Association and director of the Pacific Berry Growers, Ltd.; Y. Kohe, vice-president of the Haney Association and director of the Maple Ridge Fruit Growers' Association, and H. P. Simpson, president of the Berry Growers' Co-operative Union.

It is stated arrangements are well under way for taking care of the crop of the Berry Growers' Co-operative Union through other channels.

This deadlock is the first real contest in the history of the new co-operative marketing of agricultural products in this Province.

CORRESPONDENCE ON GOVERNMENT VESSELS

Matter Relating to Decision to Sell 27 of Smaller Vessels Placed Before House

OTTAWA, June 1.—Correspondence regarding the decision of the Government to sell 27 of the smaller vessels of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, was tabled in the House this afternoon by Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, on the motion of Mr. T. L. Church, Toronto. Among the inquiries as to selling prices, one was from Mrs. Mary E. Smith, member of the British Columbia legislature, asking what the C. G. M. M. would accept for the Canadian Observer and two other vessels. The correspondence also contained a letter from Mr. T. M. Kirkwood, offering on behalf of a group of British financiers, to take over the whole fleet and to erect a flour mill at Quebec, and elevators at Quebec and Halifax, and also in England, France and Italy, provided the Quebec or Federal Government would guarantee the interest on the syndicate's bonds, and also that the Federal Government would reduce the freight rate on grain to 12 cents from Winnipeg to Montreal and 18 cents a bushel from Winnipeg to Halifax.

ROGERS AND VICTIM BURIED YESTERDAY

Citizens Pay Tribute to Officer—Protestant Youth Reads Catholic Funeral Service Over Convict

TORONTO, June 1.—Federal, Provincial and Toronto city police today united with a great number of citizens in paying tribute to the memory of Sergeant John Urquhart, Provincial police officer, shot to death by Leo Rogers, during the chase for that fugitive.

The funeral of Sergeant Urquhart was held here this afternoon.

Unconsecrated Ground

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 1.—Leo Rogers, slayer of two policemen during the two weeks he was a fugitive from justice tonight lies buried in unconsecrated ground next to the Catholic cemetery. A Protestant youth, at the request of the family, read the Catholic funeral service over the body of the man who was brought down by bullets from the rifles of a Provincial police posse, on Wednesday night last.

Approximately 200 people crowded around the Rogers' house and filled the parlor where the body lay this afternoon. Floral tributes comprised a wreath from Rogers' mother and father, one from his sister and another from a family named Aird.

Chief at Attention

Six youths picked at random from among the crowd by John Brown, local Children's Aid officer, whose services were sought by the family followed the casket from the house and the procession moved down a rocky path to where the hearse stood. The funeral cortege wound up Main Street toward the Catholic cemetery. At a street intersection stood Chief of Police Moreby. He who had hunted the ex-convict for two weeks, stood at attention and removed his hat as the hearse went by.

PAUL KRUGER IN COURT

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—Paul Kruger, Jr., of Boylston, Pa., who said that he was a great-grandson of the late Oom Paul Kruger, was held in $800 bail yesterday charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was arrested after a collision with a city water wagon. Police said he admitted having had three bottles of bear.

WAR STRENGTH HAS INCREASED

More Armed Men in Europe Today Than Before the War, Lord Robert Cecil Declares in Speech

SOUNDS WARNING ON WARLIKE SYMPTOMS

Urges Nations to Erect Barrier Against the Recent Conviction That Force Is Coming Into Power

LONDON, June 1.—In the first speech he has made since he became a member of the British Cabinet, Lord Robert Cecil tonight made an eloquent plea to the United States before the English-Speaking Union to join the League of Nations. He declared he had found widespread sentiment throughout the United States during his recent visit there in favor of the League.

Disquieting

Lord Robert sounded a warning that in many parts of the world warlike symptoms were developing which were profoundly disquieting. He said there were more armed men in Europe today than before the war. He affirmed that the tendency of most of the larger countries was toward greater military equipment.

Anxious for Peace

"There seems to have been conviction during the last few months," Lord Robert continued, "that force, violence and bloodshed again are coming into power as instruments for settling international disputes. Now is the time for all nations to erect a barrier against this scourge when the frame of public mind is such that it is passionately anxious for peace."

CITIZENS INDIGNANT AT GRAVEYARD SEARCH

Excavators at Gravesend Partake of Tea on Tombstones and Men Haul Crumbling Skulls

GRAVESEND, June 1.—Resentment at the action of Mr. Edward Gaston, American archaeologist, and his associates in digging up the remains of scores of bodies in St. George's Church yard in their search for the bones of Princess Pocahontas continued unabated among the townspeople today.

Although Mr. Gaston had taken much pains to explain that no disrespect was intended, the inhabitants of Gravesend held indignation meetings and made their sentiments known to the church. Some even threatened to petition for the removal of Canon Gedge, blind pastor of the church, who officiated at the reinterment of the bones. They were particularly aggrieved, they said, to see the excavators partaking of tea and cake on flat tombstones while the workmen, with cigarettes in their mouths, hauled up bucketfuls of crumbling skulls and bones from the deep vaults and photographers snapped the gruesome scene.

Leader Determined

"I am sure that most Americans and Britons will agree that in the body of the Indian heroine could be found and suitably enshrined in the land of her birth it would form another link between the two countries," said Mr. Gaston today in defending the exhumation.

"The enterprise has cost me many years of effort and much money, and I intend to see it through, in spite of misguided and unreasoning protests."

WOMAN CLAIMS WHOLE TOWNSHIP IN ONTARIO

Alleges It Was Granted to Her Grandfather in Return for Loan to British

HARTFORD, Ont., June 1.—The claim of Mrs. M. E. Stanbrough, of Detroit, for the whole of Burford township, Ontario, which she alleged was granted to her grandfather, Peter Martin, in return for a loan to the British in the revolutionary war days, is not historically accurate, Mr. R. C. Muir, an old resident of Burford, declared today. He asserted that Peter and Samuel Martin were granted only 100 and 200 acres respectively by the town in 1801.

Muir, whose family is one of the oldest in the town, said, Governor Simcoe granted the town in 1793 to Abraham Dayton, who he believed to be a quaker. Discovering he was mistaken, he revoked the grant, Muir said.

Mrs. Stanbrough set forth her claim in a letter to Mr. C. J. Parker, former Mayor of Burford.

Night Airplane Patrol Declared Not Feasible

WINNIPEG, June 1.—Formation of an airplane patrol along the international boundary to combat the activities of bank robbers is not feasible, according to an opinion expressed today by Hon. W. R. Craig, Provincial Attorney General. The establishment of such a patrol has been considered, but as the raids on the banks have all been made at night, police authorities believe night flying and landing would be impracticable.

SHIPS' LIQUOR RULING STANDS

U.S. Treasury Officials Virtually Decide on Strict Application of Recent Supreme Court Decision

SEEK MODIFICATION AT NEXT CONGRESS

Unable to Find a Way to Temper Rigidity of Court Ruling and Avoid Conflict With Foreign Laws

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Strict application of the recent Supreme Court decision barring liquor from territorial waters of the United States virtually has been decided upon by Treasury officials who hold out no hope of meeting the views of foreign powers through regulatory provisions.

Nothing short of legislation, officials said today, would ameliorate the difficulty in which the Government finds itself in an international way. Modification of the Volstead Act by the next Congress, it was indicated, therefore, probably will be asked.

No Exemption

Indications were given that early promulgation may be expected of regulations carrying out the court's findings. It was said that no way had been found by which the rigidity of the court ruling could be tempered, even the elastic provision affording exemption for medicinal liquors failing to offer means by which liquor for crew rations could be encompassed and the conflict with foreign laws avoided.

PRESIDENT OPPOSES CUT IN SUGAR DUTY

WASHINGTON, June 1—President Harding will not consider a modification of the tariff rates on sugar as a means of bringing down the price of that commodity, it was stated today at the White House.

HIGH WIND FANS FIRE IN ONTARIO FORESTS

Unless Rain Intervenes Railway Towns in Hinterland Will Be in Great Danger—Rangers, Better Equipped Than Last Year, Fight Flames in Suffocating Heat

Bush Dry as Tinder Adds to Fire Menace

SUDBURY, Ont., June 1.—With the bush as dry as tinder and a high wind blowing, dozens of forest fires are raging throughout Northern Ontario tonight, and unless rain intervenes shortly the situation will be fraught with serious possibilities for railway towns in the hinterland.

Few Farmers in Area

While admitting the fires are of grave proportions, forestry headquarters officials here state that the situation has been exaggerated by reports from the west, and declared that at the present time no towns along the two railway lines are in danger. There are few farmers in the areas in which the fires are most serious, those extending largely over big timber limits, but the property loss at the least will amount to many thousands of dollars before the weak is out.

Twenty-Five Fires

There were twenty-five bad fires burning in the Sudbury forestry district today. Everything possible is being done by the rangers, despite the fact that a high wind has been blowing and the heat is suffocating. They are immensely better equipped than they were this time last year, and chief rangers are moving from point to point handling the situation.

Conference Fails To Find Solution Of Debt Question

LAUSANNE, June 1.—The experts attached to the Near East peace conference today announced that they had failed to discover a satisfactory formula for settlement of the Ottoman debt question, which is the only great outstanding problem remaining before the conference.

Heavy Rains Add to Alberta Flood Danger

Citizens in Calgary District Prepare to Leave Homes Following Ten-Foot Rise in Elbow River—Transfer Furniture to Upper Parts of Houses—Canoes and Boats in Readiness

CALGARY, June 2.—With water seriously menacing two bridges in the city, residents in parts of Elbow Park preparing to leave their homes, and gas cut off all over the city, a state of general concern existed in Calgary early this morning. The Elbow River, which rose ten feet during the last twenty-four hours, was 3½ inches lower last night than the high water mark reached Friday afternoon, but heavy rains locally and to the southwest at midnight brought new reports of rising water in both the Elbow and Bow Rivers. Two and a half inches of rain fell yesterday, the record here for twenty years. Mayor Webster last night ordered all persons to keep two blocks from the old Mission bridge, which was being gradually undermined.

Transfer Furniture

The St. George's Island bridge over the Bow River was also threatened during the day, and firemen and crews from the public works department worked all night to keep the bridges clear of refuse, so that the water could pass through. At a late hour last night the flood waters had almost reached the planking of both bridges. The flow of the rivers was estimated at eighteen miles an hour. Rowboats and canoes were transferred to the menaced sections. Residents were transferring their furniture to upper parts of their houses. Scores stayed with friends in safer places during the night. More than a score of houses were threatened in one section of Elbow Park alone, but they are built on reinforced concrete foundations and are expected to withstand even higher waters.

PRESENTS PLAN FOR BETTING TAXATION

Duty on Bets, Says Sir Horace Hamilton, Might Be Controlled by Government Tickets

LONDON, June 1.—A scheme for levying a duty on betting was suggested today to the select committee of the House of Commons which is inquiring into the question of governmental taxation of betting, by Sir Horace Hamilton, chairman of the Board of Customs and Excise, who prefaced his remarks with the statement that the scheme contemplated making as few changes as possible in the present law governing betting.

To Hold Licence

Sir Horace, speaking on behalf of the Board of Customs and Excise, suggested that a duty should be levied at a uniform percentage rate on all amounts staked as bets with professional bookmakers and everyone carrying on the business of receiving bets should be required to hold an excise licence, renewable annually. He suggested that the duty charged in respect to each licence should be a substantial duty, say £10 per annum. Betting off the race course should be carried on only in licenced betting offices and the duty in this case might be £20 a year.

Duty on Bets

The duty on bets, Sir Horace continued, might be controlled by Government tickets sold at the customs and excise offices and postoffices. Tickets would be sold to the bookmakers at the duty value and thus the tax on cash betting would be controlled automatically while in the case of credit betting the bookmaker could pay the duty on the returns made by his establishment.

£10,000,000 Revenue

The present volume of betting, Sir Horace Hamilton said, probably was well over £100,000,000 annually and this should yield at least £10,000,000 a year if a 10 per cent rate of duty were charged.

NORTHWEST POLICE INVITE PRESIDENT

SEATTLE, June 1.—A telegram inviting President Harding, who is to spend two hours in Vancouver, B. C., July 26 on his western and Alaska tour, to visit the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police, was sent to him today. The association, which includes peace officers from the Mexican border to the Arctic Circle, will be in session in Vancouver, July 24 to 27.

NO MONEY TO BRING DISTANT WITNESSES

Vancouver Chief Appears Before Police Board Regarding Funds to Secure Evidence

VANCOUVER, June 1.—Paring of the police estimates earlier in the year was reflected at the meeting of the Police Commission today, when Mr. G. Roy Long, appearing for Mrs. Lindsay Nowell Morton, asked that another woman of the same name be brought here from Toronto to give evidence in a charge of bigamy against Lindsay Nowell Morton.

When the commissioners asked Chief Anderson why it was necessary to bring the matter to the attention of the board, he reminded the commission that when the estimates were reduced earlier in the year he explained that there would be no money available for bringing witnesses from distant points to prosecute charges.

After further discussion it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of Chief Anderson, who is to consult with Mr. Long in respect to bringing the witness to the city. It was suggested that in the circumstances they might ask the Attorney-General to assist.

Trapper Perishes From Starvation and Exposure

WINNIPEG, June 1—After a nine-day trip through the wilds of Northern Manitoba on the border of Saskatchewan, beset by dangerous rapids and followed by a ten-mile portage over ice floes, a Provincial police officer reports that a body found by an Indian had been identified as Mark Leador, 65-year-old trapper, formerly of Quebec, who died from starvation and exposure. Identification was completed by means of a trapper's licence found on the body.

NEW YORK CANCELS ENFORCEMENT ACT

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Denounces Volstead Act Definition of Alcoholic Beverage—Says Congress Should Set Maximum

ALBANY, N.Y., June 1.—Governor Smith this evening signed the Legislature's bill wiping the Mullan-Gage State Prohibition Enforcement Act off the statute books.

And he went further. Acceding to the urging of his friends that he strike a note in a change for the return of light wines and beer, he denounced the one-half of one per cent alcoholic beverage content provided in the Volstead Act, as "the work of fanatical drys," calling on Congress to modify to a "common sense" maximum, and then leave each state free to set a figure below that maximum if it so desires.

"Not Honest"

"I yield to no man in my reverence and respect for the constitution of the United States, and I advocate nothing which will infringe upon the provisions of the eighteenth amendment," the Governor said. "It is nevertheless a fact that the definition of an intoxicating beverage contained in the Volstead Act is not honest or a common sense one. It is impossible to divorce from the impression that a definition of an intoxicating beverage as containing not more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol was written by the fanatical drys in defiance of the general experience of mankind and of actual fact. It seems to me that common sense, backed up by good medical opinion, can find a more scientific definition of what constitutes an intoxicating beverage.

"Such a definition should be adopted by Congress a proper and reasonable amendment of the Volstead Act and a maximum alcoholic content should be prescribed by Congress which is in fact non-intoxicating within the meaning of the eighteenth amendment.

Leave States Free

"Subject to that limitation, each state should thereafter be left free to determine for itself what should constitute an intoxicating beverage. States which then wished to limit traffic to beverages containing not more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol would be free to do so and those which desired to extend the traffic to the maximum limitation allowed by Federal Statute would be equally free to do so."

Voluntary Financing Of Hospitals Favored

LONDON, June 1.—A determination to maintain the voluntary principle of financing such institutions as hospitals was voiced at the annual conference of the British Hospital Associations. Reference was made to the precarious position of the hospitals with regard to the supply of probationary nurses, which has been an acute problem ever since the war.

Many careers are now open to women in which they are as well paid as in the nursing profession, and in which they find more opportunities for amusement and leisure. The result is a decrease in the number of women training as nurses.

Big Majority for French Government

PARIS, June 1.—The Government received a majority of 162 on a test vote in the Chamber of Deputies today after interpellations on the recent royalist activity in which Socialist deputies were beaten by street gangs.

INTEREST SUSTAINED IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Strenuous Day for Adjudicators on Third Day of First Annual Competition in British Columbia

VANCOUVER, June 1.—The widespread interest which is being taken in the first annual British Columbia Musical competition festival was sustained during the third day's auditions at St. Andrew's Church and Hall yesterday.

It was a strenuous day for Messrs. Granville Bantock and Plunkett Greene, adjudicators. Solo vocalism, in most of its branches, claimed a good share of the time, for four of this type of events were of a "weeding-out" nature, two being preliminaries and two finals.

In addition, there were vocal duets, vocal trios, vocal quartettes and the singing of large church choirs.

The big event of the day was the closing one, large church choirs. In this, the finish, unison and interpretative qualities of St. Michael's Auxiliary choir (Mr. W. H. Barton, conductor), gained for it the silver shield donated by David Spencer, Ltd.

Another feature of the day was the playing of Eugene Mahrer in the cello solo section. His performance of two exacting and widely contrasting items displayed such insight and technical finish that Mr. Bantock, in announcing his victory, stated that Mr. Mahrer's treatment of Squire's "Tarantelle" was the best solo interpretation yet heard during the festival.

HAVANA, June 1.—Serious floods in Matanzas Province are menacing the growing cane. Sixty thousand acres are now under water, but conditions of 500 residents in the inundated district is causing alarm.

CAPTAIN'S ESTATE WAS MUCH OVERESTIMAETD

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 1.—Less than a half-million dollars, instead of many millions, as popularly estimated, is the value of the estate of the late Colonel Colin P. Campbell, former British army officer and relative of the Duke of Argyle. A petition for probate of the will was filed in the superior court here today showing that Colonel Campbell left property worth $485,000 in Santa Barbara County and in England. With the exception of one small annuity to an aunt in England, Mrs. Campbell inherits the entire estate. She is already wealthy in her own name, being one of the three heirs to the $50,000,000 estate of the late Levy Z. Leiter, partner of Marshall Field.

Mrs. Campbell, Joseph Leiter, her brother, of Chicago, and Gerard Lawrence, of England, are named administrators.

British Cotton Trade Resents American Act

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Signs of resentment by the British cotton trade have appeared over the United States Cotton Standards Act which becomes effective August 1, requiring interstate and foreign cotton sales and shipment to be based on American official standards. In foreign trade quarters the effect of the plan has been described as tending to force the world to adopt United States official standard as a basis for all transactions. Delegations from the Liverpool Cotton Association and the Royal Exchange and Board of Trade of Manchester, England, are on their way here for a hearing which Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture has granted them for June 11.

SPENT MORE THAN CITY ESTIMATED

TWO DEPARTMENTS INVOLVED IN REVELATIONS

Need for Closer Check on Expenditure Emphasized by Ald. Leeming—Efficiency Engineer Wanted

That one City Hall department, with only half the year spent, has already expended the entire amount provided for its use in the 1923 estimates, and that another department exceeded seven items to a total amount of approximately $14,000, were revealed to members of the City Council yesterday afternoon.

These disclosures prompted aldermen to demand that responsible officials be rqeprimanded; strengthened the Mayor in his determination to see that all civic expenditures are closely checked this year, and encouraged the faction headed by Aldermen David Leeming and R. H. B. Ker in their agitation for appointment of an executive with authority to supervise and keep the Council informed of all financial business transacted in the municipal service.

"Don't these things show the need for a business man to watch the city's business and see that the financial aspects of various departmental work are not neglected?" asked Alderman Leeming.

Alderman Leeming, answering the statements that a super-man would be required to perform the duties that would go with the general managership of the city, told The Colonist yesterday that opposition to his plan had probably arisen from an erroneous conception of what he wanted.

Need Real Comptroller

"We simply want a real comptroller," said Alderman Leeming. "When we work out the definition of the duties of treasurer and comptroller we probably will be able to get one. In my opinion, the duties of the city's financial officers have been wrongly distributed, and the comptroller has been burdened with so much work that really should have been dealt with by someone else that he had no opportunity of tackling the things that he really should have done."

Alderman Leeming said that he favored increasing the responsibilities of Mr. Edwin C. Smith's office as City Treasurer, and with this would go a commensurate increase in salary, probably retroactive. Mr. Smith's new duties would make him virtually the financial head of the city, with control over bond issues and sinking funds as well as his present work.

"But the city needs someone to watch the expenditures of all city departments," said Alderman Leeming. "The city needs an efficiency engineer; perhaps that is a better description than business manager.

Business Management

"We are losing money all the time because of the lack of business management in the city's spending departments. We have proof of it in over-expenditure of appropriations in the engineer's department and in the assessor's department. We need a man to check these things and keep the Council informed of the general condition of the corporation's business activities. Naturally we would not expect to get a man which could instruct the solicitor how to fight a court case or advise the health officer how to effect greater sanitation, but it should not be impossible to find a man who could, by making use of his business and financial training, keep down the expenditure in those and other departments to a minimum. Such an official would not be a glorified spy, as one alderman put it; nor would he cause confusion, because his whole job would be to co-ordinate."

Alderman Leeming argued that the only sensible way to secure such an official was to advertise, and that if applicants from Victoria were not regarded as satisfactory, the reasonable thing would be to bring in someone from outside.

"Efficiency should come before local prejudice," he said.

CONFIDENCE MEN GET LONG PRISON TERMS

Leader and Fifteen Associates Receive Sentences of From Seven to Ten Years in Denver

DENVER, Colo., June 1.—Members of Denver's so-called million-dollar bunko ring were given penitentiary sentences today. After overruling their motion for a new trial, Judge George F. Dunkles sentenced Lou D. Blongar, called the "brains" of the band, and fifteen of his associates to serve from seven to ten years each in the Colorado state prison. Three other members of the convicted group of swindlers received sentences of from three to ten years each. Blongar is twenty-five years of age. Grove Sullivan, convicted with the others on March 28, was not sentenced, owing to his mental condition.

The twenty defendants were convicted on three counts charging conspiracy, conspiracy to commit confidence gaming, and conspiracy to commit grand larceny.

The jury was out more than one hundred hours, having taken 160 ballots.

Victims of the band came to Denver from different parts of the country and testified to having lost from $5,000 to $54,787 each. One of the witnesses came here from England to tell of how he contributed $25,000 to the confidence men.

Many other victims did not come here for the trial.

BELGIAN MINISTER ASKS EXPLANATION

Four Dutch Cabinet Ministers Attend Banquet to Belgians Condemned for Treason

BRUSSELS, June 1.—The Belgian minister at The Hague has been instructed to ask an explanation of Holland for what is considered a discourtesy—the attendance of four of the Dutch cabinet ministers at a banquet given in honor of two Belgians condemned to death by default by the Belgian courts upon a charge of treason. The treasonable act alleged was participation in setting up a Flemish government separate from Belgium during the war while the greater part of Belgium was under occupation.

MRS. CROKER DENIES PREVIOUS MARRIAGE

Widow of Tammany Leader Takes the Stand in Contest Over Estate of Richard Croker

DUBLIN, June 1.—Several racing associates of Richard Croker, including Harry Beasley, jockey, and Senator Parkinson, for years trainer of the former Tammany chieftain's horses, witnesses in the will contest today, testified to Mr. Croker's shrewdness and practical mental capacity. They declared he was not susceptible to external influences. His practice was, they said, to consider all men honest until he received evidence to the contrary. Father Brennan, of the Carmelite Order, a cousin of Mr. Croker's first wife, gave similar corroborative testimony.

Mrs. Bula Croker, proponent of the will being contested by the children of Mr. Croker, took the stand for examination by Attorney Patrick Lynch. The allegation on the contesting side that she was already married to Guy R. Marone, when she went through the marriage ceremony with Richard Croker, has made her personal history a leading element in the case. She said her native home was in the Indian Teritory in the United States, where she was born in 1884. Her mother was Florence Williams, of Indian blood, and her father Michael Edmundson. Her ancestors, she said, had had a grant of land from Lord Baltimore.

At this, Sergeant Sullivan, counsel for Richard Croker, Jr., a contestant, laughed aloud, and there was heated interchange between counsel on the impropriety of laughter at a witness whose character and history were issues in the case. The witness added that her father and mother were still on their farm.

Mrs. Croker denied she had ever visited Northampton, Mass., where Mrs. Ethel C. White, daughter of Mr. Croker, alleges Bula married Marone and lived with him. She denied that she ever had been in Canada and specifically in New Brunswick, where she is alleged to have lived with Marone.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Three of Richard Croker's children will receive approximately $200,000 among them, regardless of the outcome of the estate fight in Ireland, the appellate division of the Supreme Court ruled today. The court held that the former Tammany chieftain did not legally revoke a trust which he established in 1909.

ANOTHER SENATOR IS UNDER ATTACK

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Is the Senate next session to be confronted with another Newberry case? This question is being raised here by reason of the allegations which the opponents of Senator Earle B. Mayfield of Texas are making against him. They have already filed a huge brief with the Senate of the United States against him and now a resolution has been put into the Senate of the Texas Legislature calling on the Senate of the United States to make an investigation into charges against him.

Strangely enough, though so much has been said about the election of Mayfield with Ku Klux Klan backing, the real issue in the controversy in the Senate of the United States over seating him will not be the support of the Klan as a secret body. The issue will be whether Senator Mayfield went outside the law of Texas in the matter of election expenditures and campaign expenditures generally. His opponents charge that he transgressed the law of Texas, which limits expenditures to $10,000. Senator Mayfield vigorously denies that he has been responsible for any expenditures which exceed the limit allowed by law.

The opposition to Mayfield insists that it can demonstrate his campaign expenditures were excessive. It is alleged that Klan organizations raised much money in his behalf, but the real question of law and right to sit as a senator is not the source of the money, but whether the legal limit of campaign expenditures was seriously exceeded.

Opponents of Senator Mayfield insist they have the votes already in sight to force the unseating of the Texas member. While this is disputed, it is nevertheless clear there will be a hard-fought battle over the case. If he should be unseated, the opposition to the Klan will hail the result as a great victory for the anti-Klan elements, despite the fact that Klan support is not the direct issue.

JUDGES RELUCTANT TO TAKE DELORME CASE

MONTREAL, June 1.—No judge has been found who will take the case of Abbe Adelard Delorme, who will be tried shortly on the charge of murdering his half-brother, Raoul Dalorme, according to The Montreal Gazette.

Chief Justice Martin and Mr. Justice Wilson have both declined, and the Attorney-General has been appealed to.

SUN YAT SEN ARMY CAPTURES WAICHOW

CANTON, June 1.—Sun Yat Sen's army has captured Waichow, about fifty miles East of Canton. The enemy is retreating in disorder, with the Canton Constitutionalists in active pursuit.

APPORTION GRANT

Federal Contribution for Agricultural Instruction Work Will Be Divided as Hitherto

Announcement is made by Premier Oliver that the grant of $61,000 made annually for the past ten years by the Dominion Government for agricultural instruction will be made again this year, though there is a possibility that this will be the last year for which the grant will be made. The money will be divided as formerly, between the Faculty of Agriculture of the University of British Columbia, the Department of Education, and the Department of Agriculture.

Discussion of agricultural education in British Columbia took place on Thursday, at which the Cabinet had before it Dean Clement, of the University of British Columbia; Dr. Warnock, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. Gibson, Director of Elementary Education. It was the consensus of opinion that there has not been an undue duplication of instruction work between the three departments.

CALGARY, June 1.—Only $400 was paid for the highest priced animal at the Calgary auction sale of cattle today. This was the Prince of Wales' "Princeton Cadet," a Shorthorn bull. Fifty-one out of ninety-one animals were sold.

Record of Battles In Which Canadian Troops Participated

For First Time Complete Record of All Battles, Actions and Minor Tactical Operations in Which Canadians Took Part Is Given in List Compiled by National Defence Department

OTTAWA, Ont., June 1.—The Historical Section of the General Staff, Department of National Defence, has compiled the two exceedingly interesting lists appended covering the entire field of Canadian Military operations in France and Flanders from the action of St. Eloi, March, 1915, in which the Princess Patricias first bore Canadian colors into battle, to the taking of Mons on Armistice Day. These have not only prime historic value but will appeal directly to every Canadian soldier who served on the West Front.

For the first time the accepted nomenclature of the different engagements is made public, such being approved by the battles nomenclature committee appointed by the War Office. NEED THOUSAND BERRY PICKERS

REGISTRATIONS OF WOMEN AND GIRLS WANTED

Ample Supply of Labor Necessary to Success of Important Industry —Patches Are Increasing

The call is out for one thousand pickers for the Saanich strawberry patches. This is the largest number that has ever been required in the history of the berry growing industry on Vancouver Island. Year by year the amount of land used for strawberry growing has been increasing, with the result that the picking of the berries has become a more and more important matter from a labor standpoint.

Berry growing has risen to become a highly important industry in this district, and it is essential for its wellbeing that the necessary labor for picking be secured. The Women's Department of the Government Employment Bureau, under Miss Mariatt, has issued a call for pickers, and registrations of women and girls willing to go into the fields this Summer are asked for at once. It is expected that the picking will commence between June 12 and 15, and will continue for from four to six weeks.

There are 160 acres of land growing strawberries in the Gordon Head district this year, while Keating has 250 acres. Six or seven pickers are required to the acre. Calls for pickers have also been received by the Bureau from Cowichan and Parksville, the berry industry being in its infancy in both these districts.

This is the seventh year in which girls and women are being employed in the Saanich fields, the work previous to that time having been done by Chinese.

"The work is admirable for women and girls," Miss Mariatt told The Colonist yesterday. The life in the open air is a healthy one, and about half the girls camp out, the others going out from the city each day to their work.

The wage to be paid this year is forty cents per crate or pail, and a minimum daily wage of $1.50. This payment on a basis of results produced means that industry is rewarded.

APPROVE PLAN TO CANCEL CHARGES

Council Endorses Proposal of Improvement Commissioners—Shift Load to General Taxpayers

The City Council yesterday gave formal approval to the recommendation of the Board of Local Improvement Commissioners that street widening and extension charges be in future borne by the city's taxpayers as a whole.

Aldermen Woodward and Todd saw defects in the scheme, but set these aside when it came to voting, and when the Council went on record in support of the Local Improvement Commissioners it did so unanimously.

The charges on street widening and extension charges amount to approximately $37,000 annually. The entire amount due on that account, and which will have to be borne by the general tax rate from year to year if the proposal is put into effect, is $1,514,798.

View Street, Fort Street, Hillside Avenue and Pandora Avenue are the principal streets affected, although others where property owners are now heavily burdened by improvement taxes charged on account of widening and extensions are: Fort Street, from Douglas to Cook; Fort Street, from Cook to Ormond; Fort Street, from Ormond to Yates; Hillside Avenue, from Douglas to Cedar Hill Road; Hillside Avenue, from Cedar Hill Road to city limits; View Street, from Government to Ormond, Douglas Street, from Pembroke to city limits; Burdett Avenue, from Cook to Linden; Pandora Avenue, from Government to Cook; Pandora Avenue, from Chambers to Fernwood; Pandora Avenue, from Vancouver to Oak Bay Junction; Oak Bay Avenue, from Fort Street to Foul Bay Road; Denman Street, from Fernwood to Mount Tolmie; Fairfield Avenue, from Woodlands to Foul Bay Road; Leonard Street, from Cook to Cambridge.

Ontario man suffered with a bad back and rheumatism and received great benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Collingwood, Ont., June 1 (Special.) — "I cannot praise them enough." This enthusiastic statement is made by Mr. J. T. Rice, a well-known resident of this place.

"I suffered with backache and rheumatism and was unable to work or stoop. I could not sleep and was always tired and nervous. I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two boxes completely relieved me of my trouble, and now I feel fine."

Mr. Rice's troubles were caused by the kidneys. That's why he got such prompt and complete relief from Dodd's Kidney Pills, for they act only on the kidneys.

TORNADO DEMOLISHES WYOMING SCHOOL

SHERIDAN, Wyo., June 1.—Mr. W. B. Miser, 80, a homesteader, was killed, a schoolhouse was demolished, many ranch buildings were damaged, and telegraph lines were levelled, when a tornado, accompanied by hail and rain, swept a 300-yard path near Lariat, Wyo.

Mr. Miser's homestead shack was hurled several hundred feet and he received injuries from which he died three hours later. His death was the only fatality reported.

CHIEF FARMER WHIP FAILS FOR NOMINATION

HENSALL, Ont., June 1.—Mr. Andrew Hicks, late chief whip of the Farmers' party in the Ontario Legislature, failed to be renominated by the United Farmers of South Huron at the convention held here yesterday. Mr. Hicks created much excitement towards the close of the last session of the Legislature by making charges against Premier Drury, which were emphatically denied.

Mr. W. G. Medd, of Exeter, was the choice of the convention.

MERCHANT FLEET BID CALLED SUMMER DREAM

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A thorough investigation has convinced the Shipping Board, Chairman Lasker announced today, that there is no prospect that the bid of more than a billion dollars, made by John W. Slack, of Silver Creek, N.Y., for the Board's merchant fleet, would ever be executed if it were accepted.

An inquiry was conducted by the Shipping Board in conjunction with other Government departments with which Mr. Slack has had business transactions, with the result, Mr. Lasker said, that the offer has been definitely classed as a "Summer dream."

This conclusion will be communicated to the special committee of the Shipping Board now sitting in New York, and before which Mr. Slack had been invited. The Silver Creek bidder will be free, the chairman said, to appear and give any further details of his proposal and backing that he may desire.

NAVAL VOLUNTEERS

An appeal is being made for the enlistment of 51 recruits to the Western A Company of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve which is to be established at Esquimalt. Vancouver is to have B Company, with a personnel of 52. Companies are also being assigned to Calgary and Edmonton. The proposal is that recruits should enlist for three years, with the privilege of renewing that enlistment period. It should be distinctly understood that those who avail themselves of the training which is being arranged will be volunteers. They will be called upon to drill for one hour each week, when they will be given lectures in seamanship, gunnery and torpedo work. During two weeks each year there will be a training period, when the volunteers will be put on the strength of the naval establishment and draw the full pay of their ratings, being trained during that annual period either in barracks or aboard ship, and, in any case, given practical instruction in the various branches of work aboard a warship. The privilege is to be extended to any volunteer during his period of enrolment to serve at full pay for four months out of his three-year period.

The volunteers on entry are given full kit for their work and receive pay of 25 cents for each drill they attend, with a bonus of $5 in the event of attending more than forty drills during the year. In connection with the local Company four officers will be needed. The idea of this organization of Naval Volunteers is to build up a uncleus out of which men can be drawn for naval work in cases of emergency, and also to give such men an opportunity to enlist with the permanent naval establishment if such should prove to be their desire. In all, 1,000 Naval Volunteers are to be raised throughout the country; not an ambitious number by any means, but it is a number which, if the results justify the policy, may be increased in the course of time. In Victoria and district it ought to be a simple matter to recruit 51 volunteers once the purpose of the organization becomes known. The value of what such recruits will learn in the matter of seamanship alone should stand them in good stead for a seafaring career, as well as inculcating the sea spirit. We may deplore the fact that the Government is doing so little in this country in a naval sense, but at least the Naval Volunteer policy has a good deal to commend it. Patriotism dictates that it should be made successful. There is no place in the Dominion where recruits should be so readily obtained as in this locality. Applications should be made either to the Navy League branch, Pemberton Building, or at the barracks, Admiral's Road.

VIVISECTION OF MIND

It is a moot question as to whether psycho-analysts are doing more harm than good. They claim success in riding the mind of obsessions yet there were never so many people suffering in this way as there are today. They are powerless in dealing with delusions. Soul sifting is plumbing the intangible; the psycho-galvanometer may produce results upon which theories can be built, but they are only theories after all. Psycho-analysts claim to be able to turn the searchlight on the sub-conscious mind where there is mental trouble, but in this respect they can do little or nothing that doctors have not been doing for generations past. Those pepole among whom psycho-analysts find their largest audience are of the type continually puzzling about themselves, those who are always the centre of their own little stage. They are the people who, in their imagination, are forever meeting difficult situations. They retrace their stages mentally; they live either in the past or the future and have least concern about the present. The people whose thoughts go outwards instead of being focussed on themselves have no need for psycho-analysis, for they are seldom if ever the victims of obsessions, hysterias or phobias.

The danger of psycho-analysis must be considered in relation to any benefits it may have to bestow. It endeavors to create a frame of mind which may often prove fictitious. We admit that its apostles endeavor to induce their followers to think in a healthy way, and that is right; but there is no use in forcing the mind to think artificially. It is the thought which is translated into actual work that matters. Willing a thing to be so will not make it so, for even the mind must stoop to conquer. The psycho-analysts work by a process of infiltration and they can only work with introverted minds. They may do great harm, and they may do good. What is not known yet is that the application of the science is of real value to humanity as a whole. It has elements of danger, particularly when permitted to be experimented with upon the young. It has by no means reached a stage where it should be permitted in the schools. The vivisection of the mind is, and must remain, a procedure fraught with danger.

SEAFARING NEEDS

As a result of the representations made by Mr. A. W. Neill, the member for Comox-Alberni, there are prospects that the Dominion Government will be persuaded to take some steps for the establishment of life-saving facilities on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. Mr. Neill has pressed the case very strenuously at Ottawa. With his strictures on the Wreck Commissioner in connection with the finding in respect to the Alaskan tragedy we do not agree. They were unfair and unwarranted. With his plea, however, for better protective measures on the West Coast we are in hearty accord, although what those measures should be is a question for seafaring men. The latter are agreed that a life-saving tug of a powerful variety should be stationed at Barkley Sound, that there should be better wireless facilities and that, by the provision of roads and trails, there should be speedier access to the dangerous parts of the coast.

Mr. Neill has the whole hearted support of Vietorians in the steps he is taking to impress Parliament with the necessity for action. It is urgent, however, that the matter should not be allowed to rest where it is at present. Such subjects have a habit of causing a furore for a month or two and then being forgotten. The time for the life-saving facilities to be established is now so that they will be ready for next Winter, and there should be a policy whereby they will be maintained all the time. Whatever expenditure is involved is neeessary because human life is at stake. We revert to this subject of life-saving on the West Coast because, unless it is kept before the public, interest will wane until there is another disaster.

BRENTWOOD COLLEGE

It has always been felt that a community so favorably situated as this is could support well-organized and capably conducted private schools. Many of those in existence have done well, and we believe there is an assured future before Brentwood College, which will be opened next September. Mr. H. P. Hope, the headmaster of the new institution, is well and favorably known in this community. Under his guidance the Oak Bay High School flourished and is known as one of the most successful public schools in the Province. His powers of organization in the teaching profession are now being brought to bear into the sphere of private education, and there is a general impression that Mr. Hope is well equipped for the task and will make the Brentwood College a notable seminary.

It is hoped to attract somewhere in the neighborhood of 100 or 125 pupils. Many of these will be drawn from the outside, from the United States, from British Oriental possessions from oversea points, as well as from different places throughout the Dominion. As in other private schools of the same character stress will be laid on the character development of the boys, on a broad fundamental education, and on the value of sports as the greatest aid to physical development. To many parents these essentials of education have a wide appeal. The opening of Brentwood College will mean the branching out of the private school industry on Vancouver Island. Climatically the location is all that could be desired from the standpoint of health. The college will open under happy auspices, under capable direction, and with substantial backing.

All British Columbia and especially those of our people who know the kindly characteristics and admirable qualities of Mr. J. H. Turner will congratulate him on having attained his 90th birthday. It is a great age to have reached and one which is a tribute to the healthy life he leads and always has led. An ex-Premier and Agent-General for this Province for seventeen years, Mr. Turner's active career was devoted to the service of British Columbia. In his time he has done a good deal to bring this Province before the people of the Old Land, and even in his years of retirement he has maintained to the full his interest in this country. There is no one he likes better to entertain at his home at Richmond than visitors to England from British Columbia. Many Victorians have a very warm place in their hearts for Mr. Turner and will tender him cordial greetings on his passing of the ninetieth milestone of life.

Premier King has promised that the Government will bring down legislation to abolish the Grand Jury system. Possibly this is a preliminary to an ineursion on the system of trial by jury itself. There is an element of thought gathering ground in the country which forgets that solemn warning of Junius that, "the laws which protect us in our civil rights grow out of the constitution, and they must fall or flourish with it."

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Very much indeed depends upon the point of view. An infant behemoth may not be very attractive to the eye of a human being, but its doting mother unquestionably believes it to be just about the sweetest thing upon the face of the earth.

* * *

Last evening a gentleman who has spent the greater part of his life in Victoria and appears to have enjoyed it up to a certain point, bewailed the fact that things appear to be changing in their aspect and that among other matters the weather is not up to the mark set in brighter and happier days. Later a gentleman interested in the business of growing and marketing strawberries came along, whistling and singing, and altogether in a hilarious mood. The wind might blow from whither it listeth as far as he was concerned, from east, west, north or south, or from all quarters at the same time. Every prospect was pleasing to him, because the season had been favorable for the production of strawberries. His vines were laden with fine, fat and well-favored fruit. Therefore all was well with him, and his view of conditions in general was affected by his own hilarious feelings.

* * *

Men who deal in milk, or potatoes, or hay, or in agricultural and horticultural products in general, were not encountered, but there is little doubt that they all consider the season a favorable one—that is, so far as it is possible for people who live upon the land and close to nature to take a rosy view of things. There is reason to believe that the season is proving the most favorable one that has been experienced on Vancouver Island for many years; but it is not to be expected that the average agriculturist will admit the fact except in a grudging kind of way.

* * *

Yet it is true the weather this season has been somewhat unusual. The chief of the meteorological station on the hill admits it and proves it by figures. We have had less sunshine in May than we are accustomed to; we have had rain at a time when we usually have dry and pleasant weather; and generally the conditions have not been just what could have been wished—that is, from the point of view of the people of Victoria; but the people who live in the country are entitled occasionally to enjoy the conditions most favorable for their particular business, and we should rejoice with them on this occasion, because they claim it is not often that they get the better side of things.

Human society occasionally develops a specimen with all the instincts and the disposition of the most objectionable of the beasts of the jungle. Such creatures are abnormal, and cannot be dealt with in a normal or a formal way—not as a rule. Society must protect itself against such criminals as Leo Rogers, and it has created machinery and agents for protective purposes. The operation and direction of this machinery must be entrusted to hands and minds experienced in the business, and ordinarily it is in this and in all other British countries.

* * *

Rogers has gone to his account, however. Earthly authority has settled with him. That which is left has been turned over to the mother who bore the boy, who, we are told, has dressed the bullet-riddled remains in the finest linen she could procure in preparation for burial. Rogers to the world was an outlaw, a desperado, a murderer. To his mother he was the boy she nourished at her breast, the baby who had played at her knee, the young man who had set forth to make his way in a world, and was quite unfitted for the task.

* * *

Human institutions might have been satisfied with having wrought their will upon Rogers. They might have afforded the afflicted mother what consolation was possible under the circumstances. But they are going to follow the spirit of the dead into the other world and inflict additional anguish upon the soul of the mother. It is not pleasant to dwell upon such things. The fact that they still can be in this age of alleged enlightenment is far from complimentary to human nature.

We do not know whether medical authorities are entirely to be relied upon in all cases. We hope they are at least in certain cases. A medical man of high repute in the United States says that six years have been added to the lives of average persons since the year 1900. Sanitation has done it, he says, and sanitation may add another six years to the average quota if certain scientific suggestions are carried out by municipal, state and federal authorities. This is cheering news—much more comforting than all the talk and gossip about the ravages of tuberculosis, cancer and other diseases said to be lurking in the path and ready to spring upon humanity. Whatever may be in store for us, our successors may rival the patriarchs in length of days.

It begins to appear, after all, as if all is not well with the world. The elements seem to be getting beyond the control of men. Fires are raging fiercely in the East and waters are deluging the West, and goodness knows how many peculiar and unnecessary things are happening in many parts of the earth. But think of an inch and a quarter of rain falling in twenty-four hours creating a flood in Alberta! Probably the rainfall is so light there on the average that Nature has not considered it worth while to prepare channels for carrying off the water.

Poems That Endure

Untwisting all the chains that tie
The hidden soul of harmony.
—John Milton

On thy cold gray stones, O sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

Oh, well for the fisherman's boy
That he shouts with his sister at play!
Oh, well for the sailor lad
That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on
To the haven under the hill;
But oh, for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!

Break, break, break,
At the foot of thy crags, O sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me.
—Alfred Tennyson.

By the Way—

IT used to be quite common in Fiji and Samoa for a man to bear upon his arm or body a certificate of his birth which was practically indelible. Tattooing is carried on in these islands to an absurd extent, and it is the practice to tattoo on the hand of a mother the date of her children's births. Sometimes also an enthusiastic father will tattoo the date of the birth on the child itself.

Date of Birth Tattooed on Child

In some adjoining islands every child is tattooed almost from head to foot on completing its twelfth year. The result is very remarkable, especially if the child is growing rapidly so that the spaces between the tattoo marks increase in size year by year.

WARNS STATE BANKERS OF GROWING DANGER FROM RED RADICALISM

speaker. "I would say, make it safe from democracy. The rule of the mob is worse than the rule of autocracy. Each one of you must appoint yourself a committee of one and see that each one of your depositors believes in his country and his country's constitution and government.

"This is my country, and I will serve it. Its soil is wet with the blood of my ancestors. My grandfather served in the War of Independence. My father served at Gettysburg—I served in the Spanish-American War, and my son served on the battle fields of France. I see danger for my country and that is why I tell you this thing today, although I realize you may not like it.

Does Not Fear Reds.

"It is your duty every hour to keep in touch with the great throbbing pulse of your nation to see that its people—your people, be instructed against the insidious propagation of the reds. If this nation is ever smitten in its vitals it will be struck because of the indifference of its people. Bear in mind: If we ever lose our country through the underground influence that is daily brought against it, the responsibility will be yours and those like you. I do not fear the reds, I fear you and your shameful and treasonable indifference.

"Do not by your indifference let the ship of state go upon the rocks. Say unto the red menace as did the French at Verdun: 'They shall not pass.'"

Mr. Nathan Eckstein, president of the Schwabacher Brothers Company, of Seattle, paid a high compliment to Professor Bissett and to the Hon. Mark E. Reed, who spoke during the morning session, upon the excellence of their addresses and the messages they brought. He believed that Professor Bissett could go back to his university and tell the students there that the view of the bankers of Washington State was not a selfish view but one whose main objective was good citizenship and the development of better citizenship.

Spends Too Much Money.

Mr. Eckstein spoke about taxes as they affected Washington State and the problems resulting therefrom. Everybody was agreed that the state government had been spending too much money, he said, but nobody could point out where any extravagance was occuring. It had been shown that the cost of educational capital account and maintenance and the cost of hospitals was greater than the cost of actual government. In passing, he stated relatively to education, that he believed, many opinions to the contrary, that the taxpayers of the state should have a voice in educational matters. How pupils should be taught was very properly the province of those in charge of education, but what they should be taught he believed should be dictated by those who paid.

Relative to sales tax, that complicated extraction process with which the business men of British Columbia are so familiar, Mr. Eckstein stated that a proposal to introduce such a system in Washington State had been defeated. It was investigated and the legislature refused to consider it. It was believed that it would tend to smother and drive out industrial development. So far as present state taxation systems were concerned, the speaker vindicated them. There was nothing wrong, he said, with the systems, but there did exist a fault in their administration. It was in need of repair and he would suggest that there be formed a central tax control body so that discrimination between counties and inconsistencies in tax levies would be eliminated.

"While we admit that our state carries many taxes, I believe we are better off in that regard than possibly any other state in the Union," asserted Mr. Eckstein. The people of other states are paying taxes just as we are but in other ways, some of them less obvious. The State of Washington has no bonded indebtedness save a small amount of bonds covering the soldiers' bonus, but we have the money to retrieve that issue. We have held our capital lands and it is estimated that they contain government owned timber worth four hundred millions. Our state highways, our capital buildings and our schools have been paid for from current revenue and there is not a dollar of bonded indebtedness against them."

"Blue Sky Law."

The speaker paid tribute to the government for its enactment of the famous "Blue Sky Law" in the state Washington had been flooded with fake stocks and bonds, and its people had been mulcted for large sums of money. But the passing of the law had driven out the fakers.

Inheritance tax in the state at first glance looked burdensome, but when it was investigated it was found to be much less severe than similar tax laws in other states. He was rigidly opposed to the enactment of a state income law. The federal authorities, he claimed had put the federal income tax law at as high a figure as they could. In fact, he believed that if the federal tax gatherers thought the people could stand a higher rate under the measure they would put it in force. If a state income tax regulation was imposed, therefore, it would act as a signal to the federal authorities to increase their tax rate.

The gasoline tax of two cents per gallon was a very good tax, he considered, and if the government felt that more revenue was required he would favor its increase. It was a peculiar thing, he asserted, that shortly after the two cent tax was imposed the price of gas fell sufficiently to absorb the tax.

"We are not taxed higher than the people of other states of the Union, only we talk more about it," charged the speaker. "I don't mean to say that we should not fight any effort to impose higher taxes, but we are not badly off in comparison to other states. Washington State is prosperous. Any man who wants to work can secure it in Washington at good pay and there is good opportunity for profitable investment of capital. One thing we must do is to stop this knocking."

Not to Get But to Give

Dr. Sheldon, introduced by the President, Mr. S. M. Jackson, as "human engineer, lecturer, economist, and editor of business philosophy," delivered one of the finest addresses on the basic principles of life and the living of it, that has been given on the Pacific Coast. He is a student of human nature and the reflexes of human nature, and his clearness of vision and keen perception were inspiring. The science of economics was not in getting, but in giving, he said, in introducing his talk. The present great danger to civilization as it is now constituted was the propaganda that the great aim was to get, and not to give—or not to give more than could be helped. Such a practice if not checked would ruin civilization, he asserted.

"The one great basic law of life is our usefulness to society—the service we give," he said.

He spoke for a short time upon the dangers which threatened modern civilization mentioned by Professor Bissett in his address. He charged that the people of the United States were showing a tendency to drift away from the ideals of their forefathers expressed in the constitution of the nation. There was a mistaken idea regarding the state as a whole. The nation was not a democracy but a republic. No such thing existed as a pure democracy. A pure democracy meant pure liberty and liberty, over-ripe, was licence which every time meant chaos and destruction.

The menace to the nation which every man should guard against was the spirit of collectivism. It included all systems opposed to the representative method of government. Tons of literature were being circulated throughout the United States advocating its adoption and it was of a subtle type that would influence almost anybody.

Capacity to Serve

Doctor Sheldon divided service and the capacity to serve into groups. In one group he ranged the essentials of service—duties, responsibilities and obligations and in the other he put the rewards—rights, privileges and prerogatives. Unless a man shouldered and performed his duties, privileges and obligations, consciously or unconsciously, he could not expect, nor could he secure rights, privileges and prerogatives.

The great foundation of life was confidence, he said, and it was supported on the bedrock of satisfaction in relationships. Service was the governing law of life, and there was no substitute. He compared the building of service with the building of a great structure. No building could stand solidly without foundations. Neither could service stand without confidence. No building could stand solidly without firm support under its foundations, and neither could service stand unless there was satisfaction in relationships. An earthquake would destroy the building, and an earthquake or series of earthquakes, in the form of mistakes, would destroy service. Mistakes were of two kinds, mistakes of omission and mistakes of commission, and one class was as serious as the other.

In speaking of conduct, Dr. Sheldon gave it a very essential position in the schema of things. Anything that was unsound morally or spiritually was unsound economically. Honesty was not a policy, but a natural law, and service was not a policy but a principle. Service required quality, quantity and mode of conduct.

In Memorial

At the commencement of the afternoon session yesterday, Mr. M. E. Lies, president of the Douglas County Bank, Waterville, read a list of names of those members of the Washington Bankers' Association who, since the last convention, had passed on, and fitting tributa was paid to the service each had given.

The secretary read two telegrams of greetings and best wishes from Messrs. H. W. McPhail and C. D. Roper.

At the conclusion of the session, the president announced that the Colwood Golf Club had extended an invitation to all members of the convention and guests to attend an "open house" at the club quarters this afternoon, when golf, tea and dancing would be enjoyed.

Popular Appointment.—The Ottawa correspondent of The Toronto Mail, under date of May 17, says: "Mr. C. T. Dupont, formerly of the Inland Revenue Department at Windsor, who recently made a tour through the Pacific Province and furnished a very valuable report to the department, has been appointed inspector of inland revenue for the Province of British Columbia. The appointment meets with the approval of the representatives of that Province, and is strongly endorsed by the Victoria papers. Mr. Dupont will make a very efficient officer.

In Charge of Dockyard.—Mr. James Henry Innes, from the Admiralty in London, yesterday entered upon his duties as naval and victualling storekeeper and accountant at the Royal Dockyard at Esquimalt.

Iron Ores in British Columbia

Sir,—Will you please let an old mining man, with friends amongst the old timers, have a bit of space about the existence of iron ore in British Columbia. I see some of the few who raise prejudices against the blast furnace project are claiming we haven't got the right kind of ore to make it go, which is nonsense, as any real mining man can prove.

As one of the owners of a big iron deposit which I have helped to develop in British Columbia, and know all about, I would say that this one deposit alone is enough to keep that blast furnace running for the next hundred years to come, and longer, no matter how much they would use. We have this ore, in large quantities, tested, analyzed fully, and actually made into pig iron, and can show the iron that has been made from it, with the full reports of the furnace operators, showing that it can be as cheaply worked as the softer hematite ore of the East. Moreover, these ores lie on the seashore, handy to be shipped anywhere in British Columbia, without having to pay the heavy freightage charges for transportation which all Eastern plants must pay.

This is only one of many similar ore deposits in British Columbia which I know of, all of which ought to be developed, and they would be if there was an iron and steel plant somewhere in British Columbia.

It seems to me there is too much politics in the Government going on in this matter for the people's good, as seen in the delay that is exhibited. This is not a political question at all, and if the Minister of Mines, the Department of Mines, and the rest of them, would only lay aside their prejudices and get busy doing the work for which the people elected them, we might get somewhere in developing our resources, and start up a big industry that would make still other industries.

If anyone wants any proof of what is said here, let him write me in address given here. I will turn over all the proofs that are needed.

Thank you for this space, and may it do some good, as I write in good faith and sincerity, with full proofs.

CANADIAN EXPERT EMPLOYED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Dr. Oliver Bowles, mineral technologist of the Bureau of Mines, who is a native of Canada, has been designated by the Secretary of the Interior as superintendent of the new mining experiment station of the bureau to be established at Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N.J., and which will specialize in problems involved in the production and utilization of the various non-metallic minerals. Dr. Bowles will enter upon his new duties July 1.

Dr. Bowles was born in Canada and educated at the University of Toronto, obtaining his degree of B.A. in 1907, and M.A. in 1908. He was engaged in field-work for the Ontario Bureau of Mines during 1908-1910, and was instructor in petrography at the University of Michigan in 1908-9. Until 1914 he lectured on rocks and minerals at the University of Minnesota, and made a comprehensive study of Minnesota quarries. Since 1914 Dr. Bowles has been stone-quarry and non-metallic specialist in the Bureau of Mines, and has written many technical papers and articles. His labors have recently been directed chiefly toward quarrying problems in the lime industry.

Entertain Contralto

Miss Parker, the Scottish contralto, who is giving a recital on Monday night at the Empress Hotel, Mr. Granville Bantock assisting by annotating the songs and playing the accompaniments, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jameson, Fowl Bay Road, during her stay in the city. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Jameson entertained a few friends in honor of Miss Parker, the evening being chiefly occupied with music. Miss Parker contributed a number of beautiful Hebridean and old Italian songs, playing her own accompaniments very charmingly. Others who took part in the informal entertainment were Mrs. Jameson and Mr. L. U. Conyers, who sang; Mr. Drury Pryce, who played the violin; and Mrs. Maclure, Miss Louise Moore and Mr. Dilworth, who played the piano. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wickett, Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane, Mrs. Drury Pryce, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Campbell (Fernie), Mrs. Conyers (who played the accompaniments), Mrs. Hamlet, and Messrs. Justin Gilbert, McCaw and Dyke.

Humanity's Need Then and Now

FOR many years after the close of the Civil War in the United States, the position of the wage earner and salaried man throughout this Continent was most precarious. Unemployment was general, wages were small, money was scarce and its purchasing power diminished. The average man felt with unusual force the pressure of fears that have haunted successive generations—the fear of his inability—due to the uncertainties of life—to sufficiently provide for the future of himself and his family.

Insurance Companies there were—lots of them, but the yearly premiums in those days were beyond the purse of the average man.

As a result of these conditions, there came into being a number of Fraternal Societies, among them The Independent Order of Foresters.

It was on June 17th, 1874, at Newark, N.J., that 374 men sat in convention and organized the Independent Order of Foresters, which will in a short time celebrate its Half a Century of service.

The need for life insurance coupled with co-operative or fraternal benefits is just as great to-day as then. That the I.O.F. is meeting such need is evidenced by the fact that to-day it consists of over three thousand Courts and embraces over 160,000 members.

In 1881 a Debt of $4,000.

In 1923 Assets of $40,000,000.

If you would like to have details of the many benefits of Life Insurance and Fraternity, write—Head Office, Independent Order of Foresters, Toronto, Canada.

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF FORESTERS

VISITING BANKERS WELCOMED TO CITY

ADDRESSED BY LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR AND PREMIER

Association President Tells of Prosperity in Washington State and of Approaching Boom

"There is very little difference between you people from Washington State and the people of Victoria, British Columbia," said Lieutenant-Governor Walter C. Nichol, yesterday morning in extending British Columbia's welcome to the Washington Bankers' Association, meeting in annual convention at the Empress Hotel here. "It would be strange indeed were it otherwise with only an imaginary boundary line dividing us," he added.

Response on behalf of the bankers was made by Mr. N. B. Coffman, of Chehalis. He stated that his first visit to Victoria was made in 1883, and he had been so "sold" with the beauties of the Garden City that that impression had always remained with him—Victoria, the Paradise City of the Pacific. At that distant date Victoria was the metropolis of the Northern Coast; Tacoma and Seattle in Washington were in their infancy.

Following the presentation to the president of the association, Mr. C. M. Jackson, of a souvenir gavel, by Mr. D. H. Moss, of Seattle, Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia, extended to the visitors the official welcome of the Provincial Government. He stated that Victoria was proud to welcome the distinguished visitors from south of the border, and everybody realized the essential position in modern life which the gentlemen of the banking institutions occupied. The present was an age of rapid progress, and it was due in great part to capital and the wise use of that capital, which he characterized as the stored up energy of labor, by the financial houses of the country.

Much Talk of Change

The world was filled, he said, with a feeling of unrest, and there was much talk of change. Many schemes were put forward, some even favoring the confiscation of wealth. He considered such talk idle, because, he said, the thinking men of the country realized that the confiscation of capital was impossible.

Relative to British Columbia financing, Premier Oliver stated that the action of Washington bankers in entering into competition with New York for the purchase of British Columbia bonds was appreciated, and it showed not only a spirit of cooperation but the ability of the West to finance itself.

Relative to the great stores of natural resources of the Pacific Coast, the speaker mentioned the efforts made to develop the steel industry. A constant drive was being made on the British Columbia government to carry out such development, but experience had proved to him that government control could never successfully take the place of private initiative in industrial development. It would be a great relief to the government if private enterprise would undertake the development of the steel industry.

On behalf of the bankers of Canada, Mr. George V. Holt, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Vancouver, extended a very hearty welcome to the visitors, and assured them that the Canadian bankers and Canadians generally appreciated their action in holding their convention in Canada.

President's Message

Mr. C. M. Jackson, president of the association, welcomed the Victoria and Vancouver representatives of Canadian banks as guests of their convention, and then delivered his official report.

After quoting figures respecting capitalizing and assets of Washington State banks, Mr. Jackson touched briefly on industrial conditions in the state. Lumbering operations were booming, and a splendid spirit of prosperity prevailed. The salmon cannery business was being helped immeasurably by the new Puget Sound regulations, and he hoped to see the industry restored to its former position of prominence. Agriculture in the state showed substantial growth in spite of several adverse conditions. The rise in price of farmer's necessities was not commensurate with the lowered selling price of his products, and another change was required in the farm credit system. He believed the recent easement of credit to farmers had done more harm than good. State savings and loan companies operating in the state now had over thirty-three million dollars in assets, and some companies had assumed the right to do business beyond their original charter rights. They were conducting so-called savings business solely as a result of legislative favoritism, he charged.

Relative to the tariff question in the United States, Mr. Jackson thought the present system was a failure, as it had had no effect in preventing imports from exceeding the value of exports. He was an advocate, he said, of using the vast gold reserve of the United States to stabilize foreign exchange rather than keep it lying in idleness in vaults.

Business Outlook

He was optimistic regarding the business outlook. The state was entering a business boom, but he advised caution and steadiness. The sound business policy, he believed, would be to take advantage of present markets and favor quick turnovers and small profits rather than long holding. He would also advise against plant extensions. If the boom was met in the proper attitude it could be converted into a permanent period of solid business prosperity, but if it were not there was a danger that it would flare and die.

Mr. W. H. Davis, of Spokane, secretary and general counsel, informed the convention that the association now had a membership of four hundred and thirty-two banks. During the past year one reward of $250 had been paid by the association for conviction of a bank robber at Addy, Washington.

Hon. Mark E. Reed

Power questions, including the referendum which will soon be put before the voters of Washington State on a proposed act drawn to permit municipalities to sell power outside their boundaries, were graphically explained to the convention by Hon. Mark E. Reed, president of the Bank of Shelton, and speaker of the State House of Representatives. The proposed act provided that municipalities must pay the state a tax of five per cent on gross earnings on all power sold outside their limits. Against this was a tax of nine and a half per cent, which was at the present time being paid the state and local governments by private power companies. The entry of municipalities into the power business beyond their own boundaries would very possibly drive legitimate companies to the wall, he said, and into public operation. This would mean that the state would be deprived of the nine and a half per cent tax, and in place thereof they would receive five per cent of the gross earnings of the municipal plants.

He believed it would be bad business to pass the proposed act, as he feared the effect on capital seeking investment within the state if, by legislation, existing private power concerns were subjected to what he termed unfair municipal competition.

KEEP DOWN TRADE FEES THIS YEAR

Council Will Take Business Conditions Into Consideration in Drafting New Schedule

Business and professional men appeared before the Public Works Committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon and put forward their views on the trade licence system.

Dr. Lewis Hall, Dr. R. E. McKeown, Dr. Hermann Robertson, Dr. Morris Thomas and Dr. M. J. Keys were the principal spokesmen for the dentists and physicians. Mr. M. B. Jackson, M. P. P., spoke for the legal fraternity, and Mr. H. O. Kirkham, chairman of the Retail Merchants' Association and Chamber of Commerce leader, and Mr. H. N. Fynn, of the Chamber of Commerce, represented the business houses.

The doctors' plea was that much charitable work was being performed by them, work which, if neglected, would have to be paid for by the city. They held that any substantial increase in the licence fee would create real hardship on many who had a comparatively small practice.

Reference was made by the Chamber of Commerce deputation to the licence schedule drawn up last year, which made provision for an increase of practically 100 per cent over the old schedule.

The question will be discussed by the Council on Tuesday night, when the next meeting will be held. Ald. David Leeming, chairman of the Finance Committee, stated that the amount raised from licences last year was $67,412, and it was estimated that the increase to be put into effect this year would bring the total revenue from that source to $82,500.

There seemed to be general agreement among the aldermen that special consideration should be given in respect of the present condition of business, and that the schedule adopted for the present year should not necessarily stand for the following year, when business would probably be improved and the opportunity better for collecting heavier revenue.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICE TOMORROW

Victorians Will Commemorate Sacrifices of Nation's Heroes at Parliament Square

The heroic sacrifices that those of His Majesty's forces made in laying down their lives in the service of the Empire in the Great War and previous wars of the nation will be commemorated tomorrow afternoon at the Parliament square, where a memorial service will be held under the auspices of the local unit of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association.

This annual ceremony has always been an outstanding event in Victoria since the conclusion of the Great War. A large gathering composed of ex-service men, clergy, professional, business and commercial men, and representatives of women's and men's organizations of the community, hitherto has taken part in the service, which has always been memorable for its impressiveness.

The service will be of a very brief and simple nature, and will consist in the singing of several well-known hymns, the offering of prayer by Rev. W. Leslie Clay, D.D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and president of the Canadian Club of Victoria; a silent tribute by the assembled multitude; an appropriate address by Rev. F. C. Chapman, rector of the Garrison Church, Esquimalt; prayer and benediction by the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbia, and the playing of the lament, "Flowers of the Forest," by the 16th Canadian Scottish Band.

A collection will be taken up during the service, and after the expenses have been defrayed, the balance, if any, will be devoted to the Army and Navy Veterans' benevolent fund. Music for the singing will be furnished by the Boys' Naval Brigade Band.

Preceding the service, a procession of returned soldiers, representatives of local public organizations and bands will be held, starting from the corner of Blanshard and Yates Street, and proceeding through the city's principal thoroughfares to the scene of the service.

MOTORS FIGHT FOR SPACE ON FERRY

ANACORTES-SIDNEY CRAFT DOES WELL IN MAY

Three Times the Traffic This Year as Last—370 Cars and 1,524 Passengers in May

Statistics of the Anacortes-Sidney traffic for the first few weeks of operation indicate that this is to be a big season for automobile travel between Washington State and Vancouver Island. On the Anacortes ferry alone three cars are crossing this year for every one that did so twelve months ago, the figures show. The volume of traffic is swollen still further by the influx via Bellingham and the new Canadian Pacific Motor Princess.

From May 10 to May 31, the City of Angeles, operating between Anacortes and Sidney, carried 370 cars and 1,524 passengers. This, according to Mr. George I. Warren, secretary of the Victoria Publicity Bureau, is more than two hundred per cent better than last year. The figures have even more significance in view of the fact that last year two ferries were in operation on the Anacortes route, whereas this Summer the City of Angeles is doing the work alone.

Weather conditions in May were another factor making the activity on the route particularly pleasing to the Anacortes-Victoria Ferry Company. The dull skies of the past few weeks undoubtedly cut seriously into the traffic, yet, despite the losses so incurred, cars and tourists were more numerous than would have been expected even with the best of weather.

City & District

Will Visit Interior—Premier Oliver will leave at the end of next week on a trip to the Kootenay section in the course of which he will address a number of public meetings dealing chiefly with the railway rates question.

Plan for Convention—At the meeting yesterday of the Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters arrangements for the convention of the order to be held here next week, June 6, 7 and 8, were discussed, and a donation was passed for the Victorian Order of Nurses' tag day today.

In Divorce Court—Before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald yesterday, John S. Edwards appeared in support of his petition for the dissolution of his marriage to his wife, Mrs. Gladys Edwards, who entered no defence. The ground of the petition was that the marriage was a nullity. Judgment was reserved. Mr. H. A. Beckwith appeared for the petitioner.

Community Centre—Owing to an unexpected delay in completing the new building for the community centre at Lake Hill the usual monthly meeting which was to have been held today has been postponed for a few days. Notice of this meeting will be given in due course. Volunteer workers are wanted on the building of the community centre this afternoon.

To Sing Welsh Hymn—All members of the Victoria Society and other Welsh residents are asked to be at the graveside of the founder of the local Welsh Society, the late Mr. Alfred Petch, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to sing "Ton Y Botel," this being one of his last wishes. The executive hopes that every member will do his best to carry out this request of one who has done so much to keep the local Welsh people together.

Manual Training Meeting—A meeting to discuss the question of manual training in Saanich will be held in the Strawberry Vale School on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. John Kyle, provincial organizer of technical education, and Mr. W. P. Jeune, president of the Saanich Central Parent-Teachers' Association, will speak. The Saanich school trustees and all ratepayers are invited to be present.

Boys Come to Province—Word reached Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, yesterday that the first party of boys being brought out from England by the Salvation Army, to be placed upon farms in the Province, were to sail yesterday. There will be twenty-five lads in the party ranging in age from sixteen to eighteen years. Under the arrangements made between the Provincial Government and the Salvation Army 250 settlers are to be brought to British Columbia during the present year.

May's Police Record—A total of 114 cases were dealt with in the police court during the month of May according to figures supplied by Chief Fry to the Board of Police Commissioners last night. Convictions totalled seventy-six, six accused were discharged, three cases of unsound mind were dealt with, and twenty-nine individuals were booked for safe-keeping. The patrol wagon responded to 107 calls. Accidents reported aggregated twenty, in sixteen of which first aid was rendered by members of the department. Fines aggregated $1,656.50.

In County Court—Judgment for the plaintiff, in the sum of $77.50, was given by Judge Lampman yesterday in the suit of H. M. Cowper against P. A. and B. A. Crump, the defendants being father and son. The judgment was against the son only, the action against the elder defendant being dismissed. The action was for damages on account of a motor car accident. The defendant's counterclaim was dismissed. Mr. W. H. Bullock-Webster appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Carew Martin for the defendants.

Equipment Tested Out—The radio broadcasting equipment at the Centennial Methodist Church was tested out last night, but only about one-tenth of the possible power was utilized. An invitation to radio fans to telephone in their opinions of the broadcasting, which was principally gramophone music, was issued through the ether, and in consequence quite a number of calls were received from those who had listened in. The broadcast was picked up in excellent style in the city, according to the messages. Those who had difficulties because of the power of the new station were told how to adjust their receiving sets. A plea for the support of the V.O.N. tag day was broadcasted.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE VISITORS IN SEATTLE

One Hundred and Fifty From Victoria and Seventy-Five From Vancouver Compose Party

Nearly one hundred and fifty school teachers of Victoria city schools left on yesterday afternoon's boat for Seattle, where for the week-end they will be guests of the Seattle school administration. Accompanying them are about seventy-five teachers from Vancouver, making a total party of nearly two hundred and twenty-five. Most of the local teachers will return from the Puget Sound city Sunday, but some will remain until Monday morning. The trip was arranged by Mr. Harry Charlesworth, secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation.

KEEPS RECORD CLEAR

Commissioner Staneland Will Correct Idea That Victoria Did Not Entertain Police Chiefs

Apparently the editor of the official organ of the Chiefs of Police Association of Canada is unaware that last year's convention was held in Victoria.

At last night's meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, Commissioner Stanelend quoted from the publication to show that the Association had acted "in accordance with resolutions passed at the last annual convention held at Vancouver."

"It is peculiar that we entertained the chiefs of police here last year and yet that statement is made in this issue of their publication. I have written to the editor pointing out his error," stated Commissioner Stanelend.

RESERVED JUDGMENT ON SEVERAL POINTS

Shipbuilding Case Concluded, But Full Decision Will Not Be Given for Several Weeks

In the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon a conclusion for the time being was reached in the action brought by the Dominion Government against the Cholberg Shipyard Company in connection with the long-standing dispute relative to the shipbuilding programme here. There were many claims set forth by the Government, while Mr. Cholberg had counter-claims covering a considerable amount.

On the general policy of the counter-claims Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, the trial judge, pointed out that jurisdiction did not lie with him. These claims against the crown could only be by way of petition of right. This applied to the claim for the amount due for rent, taxes and other things for which Mr. Cholberg had been made responsible, and which was held on behalf of the defendant to constitute a set-off against the mortgage due.

His Lordship reserved his judgment on a number of claims. Included under this is the decision as to how much Mr. Cholberg is entitled to by way of remuneration for work done between the period when he received his last payment on account and the time when the works were shut down. There are also some other claims made on the part of defendant bringing the amount up to about $20,000.

Pending the decision by the Government as to what action it would take in the adjustment of claims put forward by Mr. Cholberg, a decision on this part of the action was postponed until June 25.

The court made reference to the discrepancy between the estimate of the cost of the ships and the outlay upon them with only about forty per cent of the work completed. His Lordship arrived at the conclusion that the estimate arrived at had been under the cost of construction. He did not, however, lay all the blame for the excess in cost upon Mr. Cholberg. The work had evidently been carried on in an unbusinesslike manner. The builders of the ships were responsible for part of the advanced cost.

VERDICT FOR DEFENCE

Damage Action Involving Liability of Land Owner for Disused Footbridge Goes Against Plaintiff

A verdict for the defendant was given in the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Morrison yesterday by a jury of eight, which tried the action of Mrs. Elizabeth Allison against Charles F. Gregert. The suit was for damages on account of injuries sustained by the plaintiff, when she fell through a foot bridge on Galiano Island last June, and broke her leg.

The point for the jury's decision involved the legal responsibility of the defendant. The so-called bridge was a wooden incline, leading to a bluff, and made a twenty-yard cut-off to the home of Mr. Henry Taylor, who was the tenant of the defendant. The plaintiff was with Mrs. Taylor, on her way to visit the latter's home, when the planking gave way on the incline. It was admitted that the incline was on the defendant's property, but there was some doubt as to whether it was included in the property rented by Mr. Taylor.

The judge charged the jury strongly on the side of the defendant. He indicated his view that there was neither moral nor legal responsibility upon the defendant to maintain the incline, which was not part of a recognized road. A verdict for the defendant was given after the jury had deliberated for an hour. Mr. J. A. Aikman appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. P. R. Leighton for the defendant.

Mainland Concern Follows Principle Now Being Urged Upon People of This Province

That Vancouver Island furnishes the big bulk of materials used in the company's operations, was stated yesterday by Mr. H. S. Calder, of Calder Chimney and Construction Company, of Vancouver, who has been in the city on a brief business trip. Sidney Island brick is purchased in large quantities by the Mainland concern which, Mr. Calder declares, adheres to a fixed policy of purchasing in the Province every bit of material required, a policy he considers is the proper one.

Mr. Calder is an expert on power plant equipment and chimney construction and his firm has done the bulk of that type of building in this Province. The company is entirely British Columbia in personnel and capital. It is now erecting one of the largest plants in the Province at Port Moody.

Mr. Calder left for the Mainland yesterday.

Graduates in Science

An extract from The Echo, Halifax, N.S., states: "Miss Mona MacDonald received the degree of Master of Science by research and examination in Biology, at Dalhousie Convocation recently. Miss MacDonald is a daughter of Mr. H. A. MacDonald, 102 Inglis Street, and is the second 'co-ed' in the history of Dalhousie to receive this degree, the first being Miss Merle Colpitt, daughter of City Electrician P. R. Colpitt, Coburg Road, who is now assistant to Dr. J. H. L. Johnstone, professor of Physics at Dalhousie. Both of these brilliant co-eds are graduates of the Halifax County Academy. Miss MacDonald, despite her scientific studies, has found time to take a prominent part in all the social activities of the University, and is a general favorite." Miss Mona MacDonald is a neice of Mrs. William Grant and Miss Alice Smith, of Point Ellice, and of Mrs. S. McC. Smith, and a cousin of Mrs. J. L. Tait. Miss MacDonald is twenty-six years of age, and is the youngest of a family of seven.

A very pretty miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. A. Couch at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss J. Bryant, who is to be married to Mr. A. L. Corry on June 6. The evening was spent in singing, and Miss H. Duckworth played the piano. Master Cherile Couch, dressed in white, drew in a wagon loaded with presents. The wagon was decorated in mauve and pink. After the future bride had opened all the presents, a dainty supper was served. Among those present were: Mesdames T. Bryant, sr.; T. Bryant, jr.; L. Draper, J. Backerley, Watts, A. Menzies, Smith, J. Wilson, P. Trace, B. Simms, Laird, Leach, Lamb, and Misses Laird and Duckworth.

PREVENTIVE WORK OF VICTORIAN ORDER

Annual Appeal Being Made by Nursing Organization Today—Many Emergencies to Meet

Today the Victorian Order of Nurses makes its annual appeal to Victoria for funds to carry on its work.

Hospitals and ambulances are large objects, not easily overlooked. Sickness, and the nursing care that goes to ease and heal it are fairly obvious things; but the nurses of the Victorian Order, in addition to their care of the sick are performing a work in our midst that does not show in the actual doing, though the results are appearing today, and will appear in much greater volume tomorrow. Few people except those actually concerned are aware of the tremendous amount of preventive work that is being carried on by the nurses of the Victoria branch of the Victorian Order, in the form of prenatal and child-welfare visiting. Every expectant mother who engages the services of these nurses is visited once a month, oftener if the individual case requires it, and is advised how best to care for her own health and that of the coming citizen. Many women who cannot for various reasons arrange to be nursed at home, will yet receive this free prenatal care, for there is no charge for these visits —up to the time of going into hospital and on her return home the new babe will be added to the long array already on the Order's list. It may not be generally known that every infant born under the care of the local Victorian Order nurses, and any others in whom they become interested in some other way, receives a free visit each month, oftener if necessary, until it is a year old. The mother is advised and instructed if needful, and the baby is shepherded past those twin menaces, teething and change of diet. No less than fourteen hundred of these child-welfare visits were paid by the local nurses during the year 1922. So much for the babies. Now an incident illustrating the kind of work among the mothers. The New York head of the Metropolitan Insurance Co. recently began tabulating statistics relating to puerperal infection, better known to some by its old-fashioned name of childbed fever. He wrote the local branch of the V.O.N., asking for their experience in this matter. The head nurse had the deep satisfaction of being able to reply that no case of puerperal fever had ever occurred among the Order's patients in Victoria. Such facts need neither embroidery nor comment.

Having made top score in a cricket match, Bernard Widdowson, a young electrical works tester, returned to the General Electric Company's Club at Birmingham and became somewhat excited on being congratulated on his success. Afterwards, while sliding down the banisters, he fell 18 feet into the basement, fracturing his skull. A verdict of "Accidental death" was returned at the inquest.

NURSES' GRADUATION WITNESSED BY MANY

Big Gathering at Alexandra Hall Last Evening for Jubilee Hospital Training School Exercises

The Jubilee Hospital nurse of the future is not to lack encouragement to the most serious kind of studentship. At the annual graduating exercises of the hospital, held last evening at Alexandra ballroom, no less than ten prizes of a special character, several of which are of new foundation, were presented. One of these, the Robert S. Day Scholarship, of the value of $100 per annum in perpetuity, given by Mr. Day's widow and children "as a tribute to the importance attached by Mr. Day to the Training School department of hospital service," was awarded to Miss Florence Fullerton.

Mrs. Day, in making the presentation, emphasized that the award should be made "to the graduate nurse of her year who has attained to the highest degree of general proficiency in theoretical and practical work, and who also possesses those qualities of mind and spirit which should characterize the members of the nursing profession and enable them to uphold their high ideals which find expression in consecrated personal service."

The announcement of the founding of the Robert S. Day Scholarship was greeted by the big audience with long applause. The gathering was the biggest in the annals of Jubilee Hospital graduating class events, about six hundred people being packed into the auditorium. The platform was overhung with flags, and rimmed with flowers presented to the graduates, who numbered twenty-one in all. Mr. George McGregor, chairman of the hospital board of directors, presided, and with him on the platform were practically all the other members of the board, as well as Right Rev. C. deV. Schofield, who gave the invocation, and the Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, who gave the address to the graduating class. Owing to illness, Mr. Justice Galliher was unable to be present to deliver the commencement address.

The hospital board was represented by the chairman, Mr. George McGregor, Mrs. Rhodes, Messrs. Charles Williams, James Parfitt, James Forman, Vaughan Roberts, John Wallace, D. E. Campbell, J. D. Angus, Banfield, Sieverts, Brown and Drake, and Doctors Bapty, Miller and Thomas.

The following are the graduates: Kathleen Marjorie Holland, Victoria; Olive Perry LeMarquand, Victoria; Florence Louisa Fullerton, Victoria; Anne Muriel Wright, Vancouver; Iva Ellen Graham, Victoria; Victoria Mae Kelly, Kamloops; Dorothy Norah Mary Frampton, Victoria; Laura Elizabeth Cummins, Vancouver; Hazel Mary Cook, Victoria; Sue Evans Wright, Victoria; Rose Jones, Victoria; Bertha Bayley, Hamilton, Ont.; Nona Dawn Fernau, Victoria; Phyllis Cresswell Bellamy, Victoria; Rosamond Nora Munday, Victoria. Jessie Wilhelmena Penzer, Kamloops.

Affiliated pupils: Bertha Bayley, one year in the Roycroft Maternity Hospital, Vancouver; two years in the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria. Dorothy Norah Mary Frampton, one year in the Victoria Private Hospital, Victoria; two years in the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria.

Post graduates in maternity: Mary Mitchell, graduate of the Glasgow Royal Maternity Hospital, Glasgow, Scotland. Ivy Beatrice Davy, graduate of the Rotherham Hospital, Yorks., England.

Mr. George McGregor presented the diplomas after a brief address of congratulation, Miss Jessie McKenzie, R.N. lady superintendent of the hospital, conferring the badges, and Dr. Pierce, medical superintendent, also shaking hands with each of the graduates as she passed down the line. Beautiful bouquets were presented by the Women's Auxiliary to each nurse, also to Miss McKenzie. Mrs. Day also presented Miss McKenzie and Mrs. Rhodes (the latter as representative of the hospital board), with flowers in recognition of much kindness shown.

In addition to the Robert S. Day Scholarship awarded to Miss Fullerton, there were the following prizes, presented by Mr. Drake, chairman of the Training School committee: A handsome traveling bag, given by the Canadian Hospital Supply Company, to Miss Phyllis Bellamy for proficiency in the operating room; cheque of $25, awarded to Miss Annie Clothier for making the highest number of credits in her theoretical work; cheque for $25 (for excellency in practical work), awarded to Miss Helen McQueen; bursary (presented by the Victoria Graduate Nurses' Association to the undergraduate who was most proficient in her first year), awarded to Miss Elizabeth Brethour Joyce; victoria (presented by the individual members of the board of directors in recognition of the serious studentship shown by the nurses in training), presented to the members of the Training School; three books (presented by Dr. Price, City Health Officer, to the student securing 100 per cent in her examinations in infectious disease), were awarded to Miss Clothier, Miss Purdy and Miss Rhodes.

The evening's programme included vocal solos by Mr. R. Morrison and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, and Ozard's orchestra played the march to which the graduating class entered the hall.

Trade Union Rivalry Aired in Court Action

LONDON, June 1.—Rivalries between trade unions and the rights of members to inspect the books of unions through a qualified accountant were prominent points in the interesting action in the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice here Thursday, when Mr. Justice Acton decided that a member of the Amalgamated Marine Workers' Union was entitled to inspect the union's books.

COURTENAY

COURTENAY, May 31.—Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Len Piket and John Robinson rescued two boys, James Webb and Tommy Gray, who went boating on the Courtenay River. About a quarter of a mile above the Island Highway bridge there is a turn in the river. The boys had just negotiated this part of the stream when their boat struck a snag and capsized. The lads were fortunate enough to be able to take hold of the snag, where they were hanging on when rescued.

On behalf of Chief Piket and members of the Courtenay Volunteer Fire Department, Mr. William Stubbs, principal of the public school, presented Miss Marjorie Fletchar, newly crowned Queen of the May, with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

SOCIAL AT DUNCAN

Ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Hold Successful Reunion

DUNCAN, May 31.—Last evening about sixty people attended the social held in the lodgerooms of the K. of P. Hall, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Many novel features were introduced throughout and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent. Outstanding, perhaps, was the "mystery auction" conducted by Mr. C. W. O'Neill, which provided fun and entertainment galore. In the guessing contest Miss D. Fleming won the prize for the flower competition. Mrs. G. A. Harris and Mrs. Inglis tied for the honors in the contest conducted by Mrs. Campbell. During the evening instrumental selections were rendered by Miss Cowie.

A candy and ice cream stall did a thriving trade, which was conducted by Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Coyne and Miss Livingston and home-cooked food found a ready sale under the guidance of Mrs. Anderson, sr., Mrs. D. R. Hattie and Miss Fleming. Mrs. A. H. Peterson, assisted by Mrs. P. Campbell and Mrs. Colbourne, supervised the arrangements for the evening's entertainment.

CUMBERLAND

CUMBERLAND, May 31.—On Wednesday Mrs. J. Stevenson entertained the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church for the purpose of extending a farewell to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. G. Kinney, who are leaving on Tuesday for Ocean Falls, where Mr. Kinney will take charge of the Methodist Church. On behalf of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. George Richardson presented Mr. and Mrs. G. Kinney with a silver teapot. Rev. Mr. Kinney made a fitting reply, thanking the Ladies' Aid for their past cooperation and help, and saying that the Ladies' Aid was a great asset to the church. The hostess served refreshments, and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

The W. H. O. Club entertained at a handkerchief shower for Miss Jessie Baker, who is leaving shortly for Powell River, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maunce. The evening was passed in music and games. The hostess served refreshments. The recipient received many beautiful handkerchiefs, and regret was expressed at her departure.

SCOTTISH REGIMENT CAMPS AT ESQUIMALT

Members of Battalion, Accompanied by Two Bands, Go Under Canvas —Happiness Predominates

The 16th Canadian Scottish Battalion, C.E.F., went into Summer training last night at Macauley Plain, Esquimalt, and commenced their annual regimental camp in very fitting style. Between fifty-five and sixty-five members of the unit arrived at the camp at 7 o'clock, when tents were pitched, while the evening meal was served about 8:30 o'clock. Most of those under canvass will spend each day at their business in the city, and the nights at the camp.

Everyone was in a merry mood last night at Macauley Plain, and the laughter heard on every hand was a splendid indication of the spirit of the men who are attending the camp.

Tents were pitched on the grounds of the fort just outside the wire entanglements. Thirty-two tents were put up, and each of them will accommodate from three to five men. There will be three messes, those of the officers, sergeants and men. Shower baths and other conveniences, including a telephone, have been put in at the camp, which will be of ten days' duration.

Members of the 16th Canadian Scottish band, under the leadership of Bandmaster James M. Miller, and the battalion's Scottish pipers, under Regimental Pipe Major Macdonald, are under canvass with the other military men.

Eight officers of the battalion, including Colonel H. M. Urquhart, M.C., D.S.O, officer commanding the regiment, and Major Pamberton, Capt. Wise, adjutant, and Capt. J. Gordon Smith, are attending the camp are putting forth their best efforts to assure that the enjoyment of the members of the unit will be as complete as possible.

A thirteen-year-old boy in Oklahoma was sentenced to be electrocuted recently.

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and for weak and dreary feelings caused by my condition. Sometimes I felt so bad that I couldn't do my housework. It built me up and I have told several friends what it has done for me. You may use this testimonial as it may be of help to some one who has suffered as I have." —Mrs. J. GEOLOGY DEPARTMENT SURVEYS HONG KONG

University of B.C. Receives Commission, and Will Make Preliminary Arrangement for Work

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 1.—The Department of Geology of the University of British Columbia has been commissioned by the Government of Hong Kong to carry on a geological survey of the colony of Hong Kong announced Dean R. W. Brock, acting president of the University, yesterday. The work will be directly under the charge of the dean, and will take some time to complete.

Dean Brock will be in Hong Kong in the course of the Summer and will make preliminary arrangements for the survey. Next Winter Mr. S. J. Schofield, who has been granted a year's leave of absence from the University, will also be in the same district, and will take charge of the work.

Dean Brock said that it was a feather in the cap of the department and of the university. It would call the attention of British geologists to the capabilities of geological men in this part of Canada.

Dean Brock leaves today on the Niagara to attend the Pan-Pacific scientific conference in Melbourne, Australia, during the month of August. He will represent the University of British Columbia and the Federal Department of Mines.

Dr. C. M. Fraser of the university, will accompany him as representative of the research council of Canada in biology. As far as Dean Brock knew he and Dr. Fraser were the only Canadians who will be at the convention.

On his way back from Melbourne the dean will pay his visit to Hong Kong. He will return to Vancouver in September.

HIGH SCHOOL CADETS' ANNUAL INSPECTION

Brig.-Gen. Ross, C.M.G., D.S.O., Compliments Corps on Showing on Parade Yesterday

Brigadier-General J. M. Ross, C.M.G., D.S.O., Officer Commanding Military District No. 11, expressed himself as very well pleased with the cadets of the Victoria High School, whom he inspected on the school grounds yesterday morning. Two hundred and twenty cadets were on parade and their soldierly deportment and precise drill testified to the careful instruction they have received from their commanding officer, Major B. Harvey. The corps paraded in command of Cadet-Major M. Sampson, and the evolutions included battalion drill, company drill, an elaborate attack and defence scheme, skirmishing, signal drill, stretcher-bearer work and physical training.

Special mention must be made of the high state of efficiency reached by the High School bugle band. Its members marched well and demonstrated their sound knowledge of various calls.

CHAPTER XV

The Honor of the Family

On the day Janet had her rebellious interview with her father, Mr. Ferguson terminated his visit to town and took his daughter back to Bahaidie. Mrs. Paget went with them at his special request, leaving her husband in London. Paget's vacation from his duties was drawing to an end, and he decided that he would spend the remainder of his holiday near his work.

He had kept out of Janet's way during the last day or two of her stay in town. He seemed to have a fear that she had something to say to him, and a few hours before the party was leaving for Scotland, when he and Janet were left together in the breakfast-room, he moved nervously towards the door as soon as he realized that everybody else had gone.

"Arthur," she said, "you are not coming with us?"

"No . . ." he replied, with his hand on the door knob. "I have to wait in town. Is there anything I can do? Any little commission I could execute for you? You are going sooner than you anticipated."

The door was now open and he was about to make his escape when she said softly:

"Sit down for a few minutes. I want to talk to you."

He closed the door and, taking a seat at a table, began toying with a bunch of flowers.

"Has Von Busch told you that I have asked him to release me from our engagement?"

"I haven't seen much of Von Busch lately," he said evasively, tearing the petals off the flowers one by one, and steadily avoiding her look. "Why don't you want to marry Von Busch? He is very fond of you and in a good position, and all that kind of thing, you know."

"Why do you want me to marry him? Is there any special reason why you should constitute yourself his champion?"

Paget clutched at the flowers until their stems broke in his hands.

"What do you mean?" he asked in a nervous whisper.

She came round and put her hand on his shoulder.

"Arthur," she whispered, "tell me what is the meaning of it all? You are strangely agitated whenever this man is mentioned. You don't like him. You know you don't. I can see it by the way you look at him when you think you are not observed."

"Oh, yes, I like him well enough," he replied, looking, not at her, but around the room with a frightened stare. "I am going out with him today, in fact I am late for the appointment already. Please yourself, Janet, of course, and don't let me interfere with your happiness, but—well, goodbye, old girl, goodbye; perhaps I will run up to Bahaidie in a day or two. I must go now, really."

He sidled out of the door before she could stop him, and more mystified than ever, she prepared for her journey to Scotland.

Letters reached them the following morning at Bahaidie, and Mrs. Paget, after reading one in her husband's handwriting, sat a long time in silence, glancing anxiously once or twice at her sister. Once she said softly, "Janet," but the younger woman, absorbed in her own trouble, did not hear, and Mrs. Paget relapsed into silence. But in the afternoon, when their father had gone out, Mrs. Paget followed her sister to her room, and flinging herself in a low chair, watched Janet as she rearranged the little personal knick-knacks she had packed up while being away in London. A photograph of Von Busch was standing on a bracket in a corner. Janet lifted it mechanically, and then taking a look at it, flung it face downwards in an open drawer.

"That's not the way to treat your future husband's picture," said Mrs. Paget with a little forced mirth. "If you begin like that now what will you be when you've been married as long as we have?"

Janet turned quickly round.

"Mabel, he is not my future husband. I am not going to marry him."

"But you have promised," said Mabel in a frightened whisper. "You cannot break your promise. Don't be a flirt, Janet; I think I understand your feeling; you are in doubt as to whether you are fond enough of him. I had misgivings, when it came to the last about Arthur. . . ."

"But you love Arthur. You have always loved him. You love him now, Mabel, you, at least, can understand me. Tell me, should a woman marry a man when his very presence in the same house is distasteful to her and she shudders at the touch of his hand? Have you ever felt like that towards Arthur, or have you not a moving spirit within you that prompts you to do anything, suffer anything, for his sake?"

The married sister covered her face with her hands.

"Yes, yes," she murmured slowly, "I would do anything, suffer anything, for him. Janet, do you really loathe this man so?"

"I simply cannot love him. I don't think I can even respect him. Besides, there is another whose image is ever before my eyes, one who was cruelly banished from my life, and has come back into it, reviving all the yearnings and longings of my first and only love. I would sacrifice all for him."

"And yet you might come to like Von Busch if he were a kind and gentle husband," faltered her sister; "he dotes on you, and would do anything to please you. Janet, think well before you refuse to keep your promise to such a man."

She had risen from her chair, and was standing beside her sister as she spoke. She put her arm around the younger woman. They were a beautiful pair as they stood together looking out upon the beautiful Scottish landscape, two fine, handsome women with perfectly moulded features, the one in the ripeness of maturity, the other still retaining some of the slimness of girlhood. Well might John Ferguson be proud of his daughters.

Neither of them spoke for a few minutes, and then Janet, pressing her cheek to her sister's, said:

"What is it, Mabel? Tell me. There is something yet you have not told me."

A look of intense pain came into the elder sisters' eyes. She threw her arms round her sister's neck, and sobbed convulsively. She whispered in her ears which drove the color from the younger woman's rosy cheeks.

"What do you mean. Tell me every word. Let me know all," gasped Janet.

"I cannot tell you. I don't know all myself. I only know that nothing but your marriage with Von Busch will save us. The shame of it will disgrace us all. For my sake, for the sake of. . . ."

At that moment the sound of a child's voice was heard in the passage shouting "Mammie! Auntie!"

The two women listened in silence. Mrs. Paget looked at her sister in mute appeal as the child without, still shouting "Mammie! Auntie!" hammered on the door with his baby knuckles.

Janet, slowly lifting her sister's arms from about her neck, rushed to the door. She caught the laughing child in her arms, smothered his chubby face with kisses, and ran with him down into the garden.

The boy kept Janet occupied until a healthy appetite sent him off instinctively to the temporary nursery which had been prepared at Bahaidie. His mirth and laughter had for a time prevented Janet from thinking of her trouble, but when he had gone, she walked out into the woods and hills, walked she knew not whither, moving rapidly, trying hard to think, wearing down with the swiftness of her pace, seeking only solitude.

Before she recognized the direction she had taken she found herself in the woods surrounding Portalone. A broken down fence half barred her way. She laid her arm upon it, and all the haunting memories of the past came back to her. It was here on the parting of the estates that she and Jamie Gaythorne had met as boy and girl in those stolen meetings before their parents knew, before even they themselves understood how much they were to each other.

"Ah, just like the old days, only you are here first this time," said a voice from the thickness of the bushes. The next moment Jamie Gaythorne came crashing through the evergreens. He caught her face between his two hands and kissed her lips. Coming from the interview with Mackie and feeling some hope of clearing himself from the suspicion that had hung over him since the trial, he felt comparatively light-hearted.

"Don't do that, don't do that," she cried, thrusting him away.

"Have I not the right to do it? Am I not the only man you love?"

"Yes—no—oh, Jamie, go away. I ought not to have come here. I didn't notice where I was coming, but my feet wandered here as of old, and . . . ."

"But you are not sorry that they acted for you, are you? And now you are here I want the answer you were about to give me the other night in London. Promise me that you will wait for me; that you will not marry Von Busch."

"Jamie," she replied, turning her head away from him, and scarcely knowing that he took her hand in his, "you have a right, I know, to an explanation, but I cannot give it. Some things have happened since I last saw you, Jamie. Go back to your own world and find a noble woman worthy of you. I shall always love you, but we must never meet again."

He leaped over the fence and stood beside her.

"Janet," he cried, "I cannot, I will not give you up like this. You are being forced into doing this hateful thing. Promise me this, if you will not promise to marry me. Promise me you will not marry Von Busch."

She looked at him steadily, looked into the depths of his eyes flaming with the passion of a strong man's love, then, dropping her head, she said in a low, despairing voice:

"Jamie, I can't give you that promise."

He staggered back as though a knife had been driven into his heart.

Without trusting herself to look at him, she hurried away across the open field. He watched her graceful form as it moved farther and farther from him. He set out to follow her, but turned back, and, climbing slowly over the fence, disappeared into the thickness of the wood.

DR. J. W. SAUNBY TO REMAIN AS PASTOR

Reported Superannuation at James Bay Methodist Church Proves Incorrect

Rev. J. W. Saunby, B.A., D.D., has been returned by the Methodist conference for another year to the pastorate of the James Bay Methodist Church, the item which appeared in the press to the effect that he had superannuated being entirely incorrect.

At the annual meeting of the Sabbath school, practically the entire staff was re-elected: Superintendent, Mr. F. W. Davey; assistant superintendent, Mr. F. J. Schroeder; heads of departments, Miss Morris, Mrs. Parrott and Miss Ruby Anderson.

A new departure for the Summer months begins tomorrow (Sunday), when the Sabbath school will meet with the congregation at 11 o'clock, for the opening exercises, after which the pastor will conduct a study of the parables of our Lord, beginning with that of the "Sower and the Seed." Every effort will be made to make these services of interest and profit to old and young.

At the annual meeting of the Young People's Society the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Cecil Davies; vice-president, Mr. Frank Hunter; secretary-treasurer, Miss Jessie McDonald; organist, Miss Florence Smethurst; executive, the officers and Messrs. H. W. Davey and Reginald McKay.

The rarest stamp in the world, the British Guinea one cent of 1856 was found by a schoolboy in British Guiana. There was no space for it in the boy's album, and he sold it for 4s. It afterwards came to Scotland and was bought by the late Philip von Ferrary. Last year it was sold to Mr. Arthur Hind, of Ulles, for £7,343—a record price.

MINISTRY NEEDS BOYS

Rev. J. C. Kunzman, of Seattle, and Mr. Bremer, of Spokane, Address Lutherans Here

With the idea of stimulating interest in the Lutheran Church and encouraging boys and young men to enter the ministry of this denomination Rev. J. C. Kunzman, B.D., president of the Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary at Seattle, and Mr. G. A. Bremer, of Spokane, chairman of boys' work committee of the Pacific Lutheran Synod, spoke last evening at Grace Lutheran Church, Blanshard and Queen's Avenue. There was a large audience, including many boys and young men to whom Mr. Bremer particularly spoke. Rev. Mr. Balsler, the rector of the church, acted as chairman.

Mr. Kunzman spoke about Christian Education, urging the need of acitve and practical Christians who would give expression to their faith by supporting their church in act and thought, not depending on the minister to do all the work. Mr. Kunzman also told something about the Seminary at Seattle, and appealed to parents to consecrate their sons to the ministry. Mr. Bremer told something about the successful camp which had been held at the Pacific Lutheran Seminary at Seattle, last year, and reminded his audience that a similar camp was to be held the last week in August this year. Last year a number of Victoria boys had gone over to join the camp, and it was to be hoped that an even greater number would attend this year.

In Russia, during four years, there have been some 30 million cases of typhus.

A Clear, Beautiful Skin

There are millions of tiny openings or pores in the skin and these must be kept open and clean if the beauty of the skin is to be maintained.

Because it cleanses these pores and encourages the healthful action of the skin, Dr. Chase's Ointment is most effective as a skin beautifier. Roughness, redness, pimples and all sorts of skin blemishes disappear by its use, and the skin is left clear, smooth and velvety.

TWO LEAGUE MATCHES TO BE PLAYED THIS AFTERNOON

Four Juniors Getting Trial on Congo Team—Albions Going North to Play Cowichan Eleven

Senior league cricket matches to be played today are as follows: Victoria vs. Congos, at Jubilee Hospital; and Five C's vs. The United Services, at Oak Bay. Albions and Incogs, have the byes this week.

It is still rather early in the season to do any forecasing with accuracy as to the results of matches, but on paper it looks as though the first named team in each case should bring home a victory.

The Congregational line-up for today's game with Victoria has been altered. Costerton, of Cranleigh House School, takes the place of Attwell, and Norman Martin, of St. Michael's School, plays in place of Gordon Leeming. These boys are being given a trial on account of the fine showing they are making with their respective schools. These, with Wallace, of Victoria High School, and Pillar make four juniors on the Congregational team today. All of them show good promise with the bat and are excellent in the field and it is expected that Victoria will have to fight hard for runs.

Teams announced are as follows: United Services—H. Stevens, J. A. Montgomery, R. H. Pooley, R. A. Willcox, J. Biss, F. L. Watson, C. P. Welch, W. Cummings, F. Grimes, R. Zanelli and A. H. Scott. VANCOUVER, June 1.—Vic Foley, of Vancouver, claimant of the Canadian featherweight championship, clearly outpointed Johnny McManus, of Los Angeles, and was given the decesion at the end of a 10-round bout here tonight. Foley forced the fighting in every round and scored a knockdown in the first from which McManus did not recover until the fifth round.

In the semi-final, Heinie Zimmerman, of Winnipeg, was given the decision over Marty Foley, of Tacoma, at the end of six rounds of slow fighting. They are light heavyweights.

Bert Dunbar, of Vancouver, knocked out "Sailor" Payling, of the SS. Niagara, in the second round. They are welterweights.

Charlie Rooney, of Los Angeles, scored a technical knockout over Frankie Green, of Seattle, in the second round of a 4-round go. Green was down several times for a few seconds, but failed to come up at the count in the second round. They are bantams.

PORTLAND, June 1.—Sacramento made it four straight from Portland by winning today's game, 6 to 5. The Portland pitching again was very poor, and errors made it still worse. Schroeder and Eckert between them gave five walks and the Senators made their hits count. One of Schroeder's gifts cost Portland the game for, after Canfield, hit, walked in the fifth with two out. Kopp knocked a homer, and the extra tally was just enough.

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Elmer Reiger pitched airtight ball for Vernon today, shutting out Los Angeles, 7 to 0, in the fifth game of the series. Reiger permitted the Angels neither hits nor runs for the first five frames, their five safeties being obtained in the final four sessions. The Tigers cinched the game in the first with a brace of runs, and finished with a flourish in the ninth by touching Jones for four tallies in that frame.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Kremer pitched steady ball for Oakland today, and his mates went on a hitting spree in the seventh that netted them seven runs, more than enough to win. The score was 9-4.

Nine hits were scored off Pitchers Shea and Courtney in the saventh, including a home run by Cather with the bases filled. Dick Merriwell, pinch hitter, played first base in place of Ellison, got two singles and had ten put-outs. He acted like a big leaguer.

DONOGHUE EXPECTED TO RIDE PAPYRUS

England's Premier Jockey Released From Engagement to Pilot Knockando in Wednesday's Big Race

LONDON, June 1.—Steve Donoghue, premier jockey over the flat in England for the past eight years, has been released from his engagement to ride Lord Woolavington's colt Knockando in the Derby, run at Epsom next Wednesday.

It is understood now that Donoghue will ride Mr. Irish's colt Papyrus. Donoghue rode Lord Woolavington's Captain Cuttle, last year's winner of the great Epsom classic, and his fourth victory in the Derby. Papyrus, by Tracery out of Miss Matty, is highly fancied for the Derby by astute judges at Newmarket. He defeated Town Guard as a two year old, and in form this season has given the impression that he has been trained into a good stayer.

Herbert Jones has been engaged to ride Knockando.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Harry Wills and his manager, Paddy Mullins, have taken literally the promise of Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, that the title-holder will meet Wills next providing he is champion after he meets Tommy Gibbons. Hagen Comes Second Two Strokes Behind—Gaudin, of Jersey, Breaks Record for Course

LYTHAM, England, June 1.—Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen finished first and second in the Northern Professional Golf Association's championship tournament, which ended here today with scores of 290 and 292, respectively, for the 72 holes. Johnny Farrell and Jim Barnes were tied with a British player for twelfth with scores of 302.

Sarazen, the youthful American open champion, was able to claim the cup and first prize of 100 pounds sterling by his brilliant playing in the last 36 holes. He missed lowering the course record of 68 only by failing to drop a short putt in the last hole of the third round.

Hagen's poor work on the greens was responsible for his 77 on the third round, but he was able to gain his pace in the afternoon, finishing with 71, which gave him second place and a prize of £50.

H. A. Gaudin, the young Jersey player, who broke the course record with a 67 in the third round, thereby winning a special prize of £100, was tied for third place with Tom Walton, the local professional, their scores being 293.

Joe Kirkwood, the Australian crack, was ninth with 300.

The Eagles and the Automotives will lock horns in a Senior League fixture this afternoon.

So far the Automotives have not been able to slip over a win, but Manager Beech is determined to turn over a new leaf, and has decided to pick on the Eagles for a starter. He will most likely start Todd or Beek on the firing line, with Parfitt in the reserve trenches. Judging by the way the motormen have been going in their last couple of games, the feathered tribe will have their hands full.

Manager Potts, of the Eagles, is also full of confidence and is determined to win, so that he can be on even terms with the C.P.R. again. He has lost the services of Johnny Cummins, who is now playing ball for Courtenay in the Up-Island League, but still thinks his bunch of ball tossers are the class of the league. Red McDonald or Kerr will do the flinging for the lodgemen, and a first class game is expected.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

NANAIMO BALL TEAM PLAYS HERE MONDAY

Local Fans Promised Good Sport When Up-Island Diamond Experts Hook Up With Local Eagles

On Monday evening at 7 o'clock Victoria's ball fans will have the opportunity of looking over the fast Nanaimo ball team, the league leaders of the Northern part of the island. The coal miners are a hard hitting team and with Kay, their big southpaw, as twirler, it will keep the Eagles guessing to hold their own. The Eagles have their dark horse, Pauline, to take the mound against the miners, and with good support, should be able to take their rivals into camp.

Nanaimo has played several games and has yet to lose the first, so there is no doubt that the local fans will be able to see some really first-class ball played when the two teams clash on Monday. The Nanaimo line-up will include Gartner, who is a wonder as a first-sacker and also a rival to Babe Ruth when it comes to hitting. Rice and Beattie also are heavy sluggers.

For the Victoria Eagles Green will hold down the initial sack and he can also be depended on for a few safsty bingles. Gardiner, who does the receiving for Nanaimo is a Victoria boy. Stan is there with the big pep to second, which means that the local boys will have to go some to steal bases. The game will be called sharp at seven and all good local fans are expected to be there to root for the home team.

KILBANE AND CRIQUI ARE DOWN TO WEIGHT

NEW YORK, June 1.—Johnny Kilbane, world featherweight champion, and Eugene Criqui, of France, challenger, who meet in a 15-round match for the title at the Polo Grounds tomorrow afternoon, reported today that they were each one pound under the featherweight limit of 126 pounds.

Promoters of the match announced it probably would start about 4:30 o'clock, Eastern standard time.

SEEMAN OUTPOINTS JORDAN

TACOMA, May 31.—Solly Seeman, New York, outpointed Johnny Jordan, Tacoma lightweight, in the six-round event of the boxing programme here tonight. Seeman had things his own way practically all the way. They met at catchweights Jordan having a weight advantage. Morgan Jones, Tacoma lightweight, won from Eddie Shannon of Portland, scoring four knockdowns in the six-round semi-final.

Frankie Zink, Tacoma featherweight, and Billy Young of Vancouver, B. C., drew in four rounds.

Near Erican, Armenia, is the oldest monastary in the world.

Willie Ritchie Shows His Old-Time Speed

STOCKTON, Cal., May 21.—Willie Ritchie appeared here tonight as the feature of a boxing card in a four-round exhibition against Buck Holly. While it was an exhibition, Willie seemed as fast as ever and in good condition.

COMMISSIONER DROPS HIS RESOLUTIONS

Mr. W. E. Staneland's Moves for Changes in Existing Laws Not Now Necessary, He Thinks

Commissioner Staneland's resolutions, notice of which he gave his fellow Commissioners a month ago, and which should have been dealt with at last night's meeting of the Board, were not brought forward, their sponsor pointing to the fact that as the subject matter of the resolutions had already been made part of recommendations made by the Chiefs of Police Association to the Federal Government and action had been taken in respect thereto by the Dominion at the present session of the House of Commons, he considered he could drop them.

These resolutions dealt with race-track gambling, in respect of which the Federal Government has already taken what he considered effective action; to needed amendments to the Narcotics Act, which has been amended in two notable instances, whereby the right of appeal from a conviction is refused the accused and also the burden of proof put on the accused. The penalties thus imposed, he considered, would go a long way towards making the illicit drug traffic impossible.

Another idea of the Commissioner to deal more adequately with the juvenile offender will also be dropped for the time being. The action of local women's organizations in urging upon the Attorney-General the advisability of the appointment of a Juvenile Court Judge and officials was a step in the right direction. He believed that there was a public misconception concerning the work of Magistrate Jay in regard to juvenile cases. At present that official received no remuneration. The city was spending $4,000 a year on preventive work and, in addition, the Board was spending $1,200 for a policewoman; but conditions were becoming such that the Board should take some action in placing itself on record, he thought.

Juvenile Delinquents

"It would seem that parental control has broken down in some cases," remarked the Commissioner, referring to reports of heads of police departments in other cities where the juvenile delinquent is becoming a problem.

Commissioner Hall, relative to the amendments to the Narcotics Act, declared the elimination of right of appeal to an accused and placing the burden of proof upon the accused was not "a fair deal."

"Any such step is retroactive and not in accord with the best British practice. I want to see the game played fairly, even if a drug peddler is concerned," he declared.

Commissioner Hall, when a communication was read from Attorney-General Manson acknowladging receipt of the Board's recommendation that more close censorship of moving pictures should be had, in the interests of the young, maintained that he did not believe the public realised the full effect of moving pictures upon the mind of the child. "I am sure some of our judges do not grasp the psychological effect of the moving picture."

A premature vote of thanks moved by Commissioner Staneland to the City Council for its action in adopting a superannuation system for municipal employees was tabled when the Mayor suggested that, while it was true the Council had been considering the matter and was dealing with it, no definite action had as yet been taken.

In view of the fact that he has instructed himself in the finger-print system and is now competent to handle that branch of identification work, Detective Phipps was granted an increase in his salary of $5 monthly.

FOUR SWIMMERS DROWN IN LOUISIANA LAKE

CLEAR LAKE, La., June 1.—The bodies of four persons, Bess Parks, George Stoneback and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hickok, were found in Clear Lake this afternoon, after several hours of dragging.

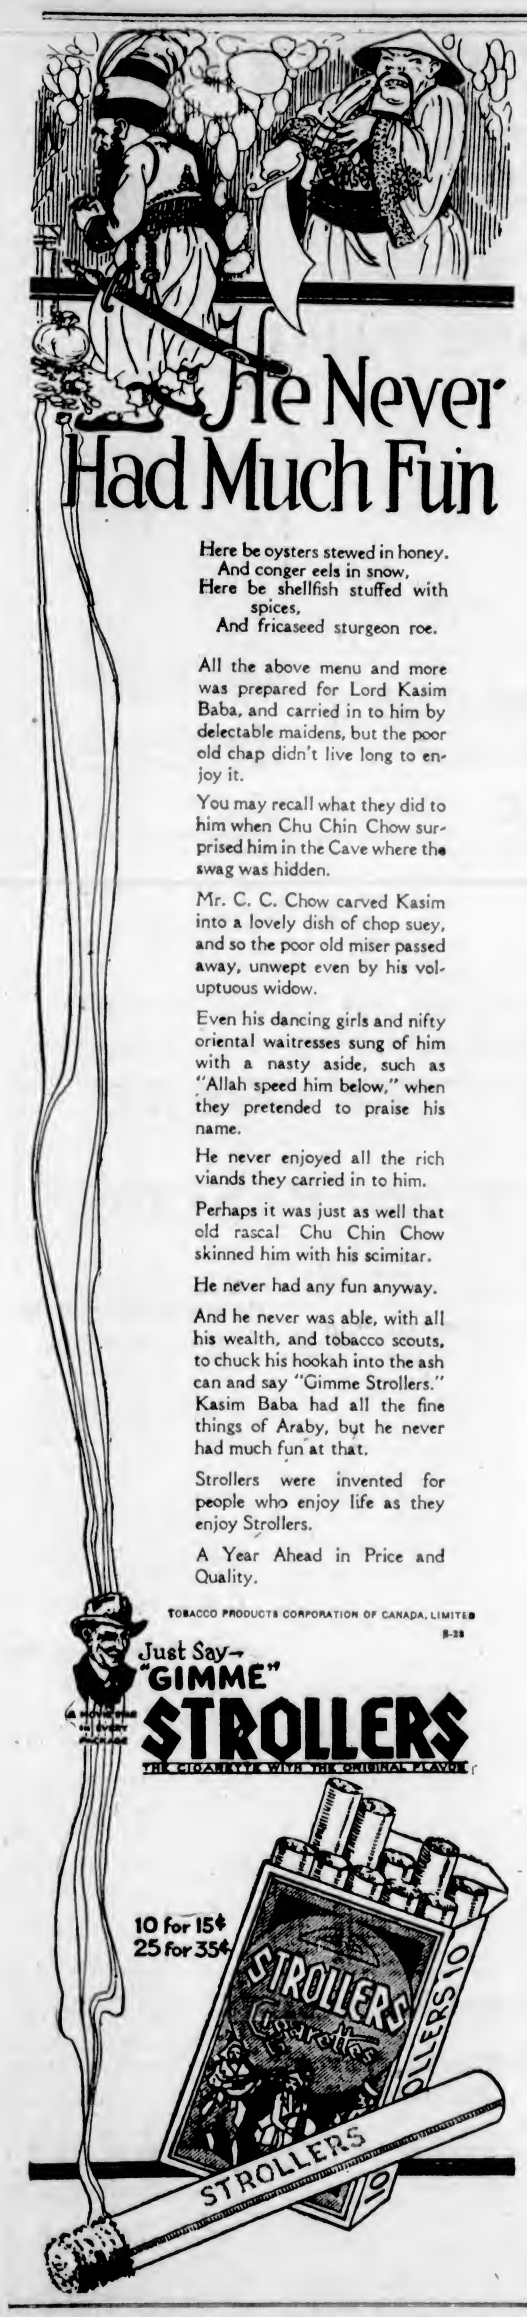

The entire party was drowned yesterday afternoon, the time at which Miss Parks' wrist watch stopped, 1:25, while their boat was anchored a little way from Riley's Point.

All of the party are said to have been good swimmers. The lake, however, was unusually rough.

Valuable Donation to Library at University

Miss Ravenhill Has Handed Over to Educational Institution Her Collection of Books and Periodicals Carefully Gathered Throughout a Life of Study and Research

THE University of British Columbia has come into the possession of a very valuable addition to its library through the generosity of Miss Alice Ravenhill, of this city. Miss Ravenhill has had a very active professional career in Europe and the United States. She has collected a working library dealing with the study and education of children which will prove of inestimable value to the University. Mr. John Ridington, librarian of the University, in acknowledging the gift has contributed a testimonial to its worth and tribute to the donor.

Is Being Catalogued

The largest and most valuable donation of books yet presented to the library of the University of British Columbia since its organization as a teaching institution in 1915, has just been received, and is in preliminary process of classification and cataloguing. It consists of between 800 and 900 bound volumes, many scores of volumes not yet bound, and some hundreds of classified pamphlets. Included in the gift are long runs of transactions and proceedings of scientific societies and of periodicals that represent the researches and discoveries of the last quarter of a century in some of the newest and most interesting branches of knowledge.

MISS ALICE RAVENHILL

The whole collection is the working library of an expert, who for many years has devoted her life to the study and education of the child. No phase of this very wide subject is unrepresented. Every aspect, from care of the unborn infant to the period of adolescence, and the choice of a vocation, is presented in books chosen with discrimination and care from those written by authors of acknowledged authority. The donor, being herself an expert internationally known and honored, has retained in the library nothing that is not a record of either established accomplishment or significant experiment, or of those trends and tendencies that indicate or hint the direction of the progress of the future.

Valuable Gift

The monetary value of the gift is very considerable. It could not perhaps be duplicated for $2,500,000, or even more. The University is, therefore, to be congratulated on being the recipient of a gift so valuable, especially when the donation is of a book collection covering a subject of so wide and vital an interest alike to the individual, the community and the nation as is child welfare in its broadest relations. Its value to the University will be immediate, permanent, practical. The many scores of volumes dealing with the different aspects of the physical care of children, their food, clothing, growth, their training in habits of health, their care in illness, the safeguard to be adopted by the community to create and maintain desirable hygienic conditions, sanitation, recreation—books on these and related subjects will be of the utmost value to students in the department of nursing. The literature of child psychology, will be of almost equal interest and value to students of philosophy, while the extensive collection of works on mental, moral and physical education will be available during the next ensuing months for the teachers of the province in attendance at the Summer session of the University.

By members of the University faculty professionally interested in those fields of knowledge covered by the collection, the financial value of the gift, though very considerable, is not regarded as the principal matter in which the library is to be congratulated. Two or three thousand dollars' worth of books of a miscellaneous character would not be nearly so important or valuable a gift to a teaching institution as an equal number of volumes, all definitely and carefully chosen to cover a special department of knowledge, in which the buyer himself is a specialist of reputation. Usually such collections come upon the market at the death of the scholar who has spent a lifetime in their accumulation, and frequently many institutions are in competition to acquire intact the working libraries of recognized authorities. The bacteriological library of the late President Woodbrook, for example, realized a sum greatly in excess of the published prices of the books and pamphlets constituting it, for the reason that it represented, over and above the intrinsic value of its component parts, a very special knowledge and many years of work. This additional factor must be considered in estimating the value of the gift recently made to the library of the University.

Difficult to Replace

The material represented in this gift takes nearly 120 feet of shelving. Included therein are serials that the library has been endeavoring to secure for some time without result. Among these is "The Pedagogical Seminary," a publication containing much of the more important results of modern educational research. This is complete from volume 1, published in 1898, to the present. Another valuable set is the "Journal of the Royal Sanitary Institute," from 1898 to 1922. Of this important body the donor was the only woman ever elected to membership—a fact which sufficiently establishes her professional standing. Another important serial is a file of the "Journal of Home Economics" from its beginning in 1909. The donor was one of the original group that established this periodical, and also one of its frequent contributors. "The International Magazine of School Hygiene" is another serial represented in issues covering several years. Published in Leipsig, its articles are printed in either German, French or English, and so bring to the subjects discussed viewpoints of peoples of other than English speech. A complete file of the "Eugenics Review" and of the "American Child Hygiene Association" from the days when it was known as the "Association for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality," are other series that give valuable data in research, and promulgate newer theories of physical well-being. The donor has announced her intention of keeping the files of a number of these series up to date during the coming years.

Included in the collection are twenty-eight volumes of pamphlets, dealing with such subjects as Mental Fatigue, Manual Training, Child Psychology, Bibliographies of the topics covered by the collection, Ventilation and Food. Then there are scores of volumes of educational reports, including apparently most of what is significant and valuable in those of the United States Commissioner of Education, and the blue books of the Education Department of Great Britain.

Not Obsolete

The collection is not of obsolete or obsolescent material. On the contrary, it is right up to the minute. It was in continual course of upbuilding to the very moment of its transfer to the University. Included in the bound volumes are some published during the present year, and among the unbound serials are the parts for March and April, 1923.

The lady who has presented to the University library this notable gift is Miss Alice Ravenhill, widely known in Europe and America as teacher, investigator, lecturer and author on sanitation, hygiene and child welfare, and for the past twelve years a resident of British Columbia. Miss Ravenhill is at present living at Dallas Avenue, Victoria.

For a third of a century Miss Ravenhill's career has been closely identified with the progress of the movements to which she has consecrated her professional attainments and personal gifts. Many other workers—some more famous—have, in the past half century, devoted themselves to various aspects of the wide problems involved in giving to children such environment and training as will make them men and women of the best possible type, but in certain phases of these problems Miss Ravenhill is recognized as pioneer and leader. She assisted to organize home economics as a degree subject in London University, and was the first professor in a subject now found on scores of university curricula. What another resident of Victoria—Mrs. Pankhurst—represents in a totally different field of women's activities, Miss Ravenhill represents in the whole modern science of the proper care of home and family.

Service to Mankind

During childhood and girlhood Miss Ravenhill was impressed with the large amount of unnecessary suffering in the world, and early availed herself of the opportunities then afforded in social life and philanthropical association for their relief. It was this bent of mind that determined her career, for in 1890 she began training as a nurse in the National Health Society, London, and later became public lecturer in behalf of its activities. The beginnings of the public health nurse movement, at the present time of recognized value through the agencies of Government nurses, the Victorian Order of Nurses, and the Red Cross Public Health nurses, had its inception at about this time, when Miss Ravenhill traveled through England, lecturing to the villages and rural communities and illustrating her talks on hygiene by novel models and demonstrations. Miss Ravenhill's energy and professional knowledge, and her powers of persuasive public speaking, did much to create the conditions that rendered possible the development of public health work in England. She was appointed secretary to the Royal British Nursing Association in London, and was one of the leaders of the struggle to have the training course extended from one year to three, and thus put nursing on the basis of a skilled profession. Her lectures aroused great interest, not merely among the general public, but among medical officers, municipal engineers and chairmen of health boards and other public bodies, all of whom afforded Miss Ravenhill every facility for first-hand information on details of water supply, sewerage, isolation hospitals, lodging houses, while the educational bodies gave similar facilities for all that had to do with the improvement of the health of the young.

Miss Ravenhill was appointed lecturer on practical hygiene to the public school teaching staff of Yorkshire. These courses were attended by many hundreds of students, including many holding university degrees. Such was the interest displayed, that some of these would travel for two hours after a day's work in school to the centres at which the sessions were held. When it is stated that each of these sessions lasted 30 weeks, no more conclusive proof of the interest of the student in the work as presented could possibly be afforded.

Sir Michael Sadler's Appreciation

By this time Miss Ravenhill's reputation in her chosen field had become firmly established, and had brought her many colleagues of distinction. King Edward VII, and other members of the Royal Family took a keen personal interest in her work, as also did Mr. Gladstone, Lord Acton and other equally distinguished men. Her educational work brought her into contact with, among others, Sir Michael Sadler, who a few weeks ago was a visitor to British Columbia. One, at least, of the works of Miss Ravenhill included in her gift to the library contains a specially appreciated preface by Sir Michael Sadler, setting forth the great value of the work Miss Ravenhill was doing, and much of which she originated.

Miss Ravenhill was appointed by the director of special reports of the Board of Education for Great Britain and Ireland, as a commissioner from this Board to America to make a careful of study of hygienic education on this side of the Atlantic. The Royal Sanitary Institute also instructed her to make a report on the sanitation of schools in the United States, and it was largely the result of her publication of these reports that the first course in social household science was established at the King's College for Women, London University.

While technical teachers in England had been trained since 1870 in different domestic sciences and arts in various schools, the University of London was the first in Great Britain to organize a Faculty of Social Science and Home Economics. Miss Ravenhill was one of the first lecturers in both the under-graduate and post-graduate courses offered at this institution.

Distinguished Honor

Recognition of the services of Miss Ravenhill in the work of sanitation was offered by the Royal Sanitary Institute in 1903, which then elected her a Fellow, this being the only occasion in the history of the Institute in which this honor has been conferred on a woman.

In addition to these duties Miss Ravenhill was commissioned by the Board of Education for Great Britain and other important bodies to carry out investigations into the training pursued in Denmark and Sweden. She also co-operated with Sir Michael Sadler in the preparation of a world-wide and famous report on moral training in schools. Other investigations carried out by her included that of the sleep required by school children in relation to physical condition and mental standards. She lectured on the physical development of children for the London University, the Cambridge University Extension Board, and for the London Council Teachers' Classes, as well as at the many teachers' training colleges, while at all times she was in the active work of campaigns for the reduction of infant mortality, medical inspection of school children, and the work of sociological and eugenic societies.

Miss Ravenhill has published books on the characteristics of children, on hygiene, manuals on the administration work in her teachers' classes, on elements of sanitary science, and a large number of monographs on special subjects of investigation.

The foregoing is but a sketch of some of the activities in an extremely busy and useful life. Many honors and responsibilities have been offered to Miss Ravenhill, which pressure of other work in which she was more immediately interested have led her to decline.

Local Activities

Failing health has greatly prevented Miss Ravenhill from taking the same active part as formerly in the movements in which she is interested. She has lectured to the

Westminster Lacrosse Amateurs Whitewash Vancouver, Six to Nil

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 1.—The New Westminster senior lacrosse amateurs handed Vancouver's best an artistic trimming at Queen's Park last evening, defeating the Native Sons by a score of 6 goals to 0 in a B. C. A. L. A. fixture. Bert Davidson's men found themselves up against a defence which was as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar and were never in the picture.

The combination of the Royals, who were in much better condition than their opponents, was of a high order, but a wet field spoiled several chances. Smith, Oliver and Mitchell played rings around the Vancouver defence and peppered Hesse with shots. Crandall, in the Royal City nets, had fewer shots to stop than in any other game since he joined the team.

A First National Picture

There Has Never Been a Greater Drama of the Sea! That's the Absolute Truth.

Mrs. Ronney Greville, the owner of that lovely place, Polesden Lacey, Dorking, where the royal honeymoon was spent, is an expert on pictures, of which she has a fine collection. She is the stepdaughter of the late Mr. McEwan, the Edinburgh brewer, and at one time a member of parliament, who left a large fortune due almost entirely to his own efforts.

BERLIN, June 1.—A demonstration for unemployed at Bautzen, near Dresden, last night, resulted in a collision between the demonstrators and the police, in which two bystanders were killed and six injured, it is announced in a telegram from Bautzen today.

FAVORS ZONE SYSTEM FOR MOTOR PARKING

Commissioner Stanceland Makes Suggestion, But Matter Will Be Discussed With Merchants

The inauguration of a system of "commercial zones" within which the prevailing practice of motorists to park their cars to the detriment of merchants in the business section would be obviated, was proposed by Commissioner Stanceland at last night's meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners. The subject came up for consideration following a communication from Mr. H. O. Kirkham, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, voicing complaints of the existing lack of adequate parking regulations, but suggesting that the suggested "zone" system would not fill the bill.

Commissioner Stanceland stated he had many complaints made to him of existing conditions. Under his suggested "zone" system cars would be prohibited from parking in front of business premises from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., except for commercial purposes. Signs could be supplied to merchants at a nominal cost and many firms, he believed, would be willing to pay for them.

Failed to Respond

Commissioner Stanceland recalled that last year when the board invited the merchants to a conference they had failed to respond, but he felt the board should still be ready to discuss the matter with the merchants. He moved that merchants desiring to secure the signs should be entitled to get them at a rate of $10 each. But in the meantime the Retail Merchants' Association will be invited to confer with the board on the subject.

But the question of the regulation of motor traffic gave the Commissioner further concern, he declared. He held that the time has arrived in Victoria when the competency of drivers should be probed into. On his suggestion a motion was passed recommending to the Attorney-General that amendments to the existing Motor Act be made to provide that the granting of a licence to the motor owner or driver should be conditional upon his proved ability to handle a car. Operators of elevators, street cars and other vehicles were now forced to take out licences upon proof of competency, and no one driving a car of high power should be allowed to do so without equal display of ability, the Commissioner held. He recalled that when the two policemen on "point" duty were operating accidents had been cut by one-half, according to a report he had received from officials of the B. C. Electric Company.

Commissioners Hayward and Hall agreed that the time had arrived when the suggested legislation should be passed, and the recommendation will go forward to the Attorney-General.

With reference to a communication from City Clerk Bradley, anent the suggestion that the city should appoint an inspector of motor cars and motor busses to ensure their being equipped with adequate brakes, Chief of Police Fry stated that at present the only person with power to undertake any such inspection was himself.

Commissioner Stanceland thought that there might be some one connected with a local blacksmith shop who could do the work. For the police to order defective cars to a motor repair shop would cost a large amount, and the board possessed no funds. He pointed to the fact that in certain cities there was a "safety week" during which cars were inspected, and those not possessed of proper brakes were tabulated accordingly. Such a system had shown that a very large proportion of cars had defective brakes.

Finally the topic was laid over to be further investigated by Commissioner Stanceland.

GRANVILLE BANTOCK GIVES SONG RECITAL AT EMPRESS MONDAY

Mr. Bantock is well known as one of England's foremost musicians and is Professor of Music at Birmingham University. His many compositions include the famous "Omar Khayyam" Choral Symphony (1906), the Hebridean Symphony (1916), "The Pierrot of the Minute" (1908), "Dante and Beatrice" (1911), the Choral Symphony, "Atalanta in Calydon" (1912), "The Vanity of Vanities" (1914), a ballet, "The Enchanted Garden," a choral suite, "A Pageant of Human Life," music to "Elektra," "Three Dramatic Dances," for orchestra, and numerous songs, part-songs and smaller choral numbers. In the Musical Quarterly of July, 1918, Ancliffe calls Mr. Bantock "the arch-experimentalist among British composers, who has introduced the world of art, and particularly of British art, to new phases and new inspirations over which he has planted the British flag of his own music and that of his disciples."

For many years Mr. Bantock has identified himself with the leading music festivals of the British Isles, and has on more than one occasion acted as adjudicator at Canadian music festivals. This year he is one of the adjudicators of the Music Festival now in progress at Vancouver, and with Denne Parker, a famous Scottish dramatic contralto, is assisting in the series of song recitals arranged at some of the principal cities throughout the Dominion. One of these recitals is to be given in this city on Monday evening next at the Empress Hotel ballroom, at which the celebrated English composer will make some comments on the songs rendered, and will also accompany Miss Parker. Programmes are now at Fletcher Bros.' music store, where also are the plan and tickets. The recital will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

At the Playhouses

CAPITOL THEATRE Laurette Taylor, who won the hearts of a million people with her famous characterization of the delightful Peg in J. Hartley Manners' play, "Peg o' My Heart," was again seen in her celebrated role, this time in screen form, at the Capitol Theatre, and it is a safe assertion the star has endeared herself even more of the vast Canadian audience which is certain to flock to see the film. As a stage play, "Peg o' My Heart" has had one of the most phenomenal runs in theatrical history. It has had 6,608 performances in the United States alone. It has been played in England, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Hawaii, Italy, Czecho-Slovakia and Paris. The screen now puts it within the range of enjoyment of people residing in communities not reached by stage performances.

DOMINION THEATRE Miss Flora Le Breton, one of the leading English stage and screen stars, is to be seen daily in the role of Rosemary in "The Glorious Adventure," J. Stuart Blackton's first British production, the first all-color feature photoplay ever made, and now showing under an Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release at the Dominion Theatre. Miss Le Breton's career on the English stage and screen has shown a personality and technique of outstanding quality and originality. At sixteen she played the leading part with Gerald du Maurier in "London Pride." Then followed a two-year engagement with Andre Charlot. She played the comedy flapper in "Flora" at the Prince of Wales Theatre with Miss Gertie Millar.

ROYAL THEATRE Marshall Neilan, "The Mark Twain of the Screen," who directed "Daddy Long Legs," Mary Pickford's greatest picture, has a part in the film, which is showing at the Royal Theatre this week. Audiences which are much more familiar with the faces of great actors than of great producers will have a chance to judge Mr. Neilan as an actor. He has the part of a young college man who is in love with Judy Abbott, the orphans' home girl who goes to college and attracts much attention through her acting of "Juliet" in "Romeo and Juliet" during commencement exercises. In this part, as a disappointed suitor, Mr. Neilan is given an opportunity for serious acting, which shows he understands it as well as the humor with which he has so admirably filled the picture.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "It is the younger generation we must consider in making motion pictures," declared Harry Carey, noted Western star of the movies recently when interviewed by newspaper writers at the big Powers studio in Hollywood, where he makes his production for release by F.B.O. "Therefore, I say, let us keep the screen clean. Let us make fine, virile productions that afford clean and wholesome entertainment. Let us invest our productions with human passions; let us make them dramatic and comic or whimsical or tragic, as the case may be, but let us keep them clean, first, last and all the time. Mr. Carey's latest production, "Canyon of the Fools," based on Richard Matthews Hallet's great story of the same title, which was published serially by The Saturday Evening Post, is the current feature attraction at the Columbia Theatre today.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Today's matinee and tonight's performance will be the last chances to see the presentation of that inimitable comedy, "The Marriage of Kitty," now being so excellently performed at The Playhouse by the capable and popular Compton Comedy Co. Besides the fact that it is proving the most popular revival seen for years in London, where Miss Marie Tempest is now playing it, the intrinsic value of the play itself, both as a vehicle of amusing comedy and characteristic presentation of real life, should be taken into account. It is quite safe to say that of all the comedies of modern years, no cleverer or more delightful work has been produced than "The Marriage of Kitty," the best proof being that, although originally produced some twenty years back, its freshness remains undimmed, and it still continues to capture the fancy and entrance the senses of those fortunate enough to witness it. The members of the Compton Comedy Co. find themselves peculiarly suited to the various roles, and succeed in putting over a performance equal in every respect to that already given by them; in fact, many who have seen "The Marriage of Kitty" declare that it is the best thing done by the company since it opened here.

LIMEHOUSE DISTRICT SEEN IN FEATURE AT ROYAL NEXT MONDAY

The famous Limehouse district of London, the grog shops of Glasgow frequented by the rough folk of the sea, the rolling and majestic Atlantic as seen from an old-time four-masted schooner—these are the backgrounds of Richard Barthelmess' latest photodrama, "Fury," the First National attraction to be shown at the Royal Theatre on Monday next.

The story of "Fury" is by Edmund Goulding—a highly dramatic tale of the sea, rivalling, if not surpassing, anything Barthelmess has yet done for the screen. The story deals with the transformation of "Boy" Leyton from the timorous second mate of a sailing vessel who is held in contempt even by his own father, to a courageous man of fearsome purpose when he learns of a wrong done his mother and seeks to avenge her. Interwoven in the plot is a delightful romance in which Dorothy Gish, as a little London boarding-house slavey, plays the leading feminine role opposite Barthelmess.

Much of the picture was taken at sea on a picturesque old schooner off the Maine coast. These ocean scenes are said to constitute some of the most striking bits of marine photography ever taken for any photoplay.

How to Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in pear blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on the teeth of upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize worn-out, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N I on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.

FIRST OF CONCERTS TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Series of Band Entertainments Arranged for Summer Months—Citizens' Ball Planned

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce is working energetically to provide a daily band concert from June 15 to September 15.

The City Council has already set aside the sum of $3,000 for band concerts, but this amount will have to be very considerably augmented, and, in consequence, the committee hopes that all who have the interests of the city at heart will contribute willingly and largely to this cause. It is estimated that to put on daily concerts will cost between nine and ten thousand dollars. These concerts will be held in different parts of the city and in some of the parks, and on Sundays it is proposed to have a band of thirty-five of the picked musicians of the city playing at Beacon Hill or one of the other parks.

The first concert of the series will be held on Sunday at 3 p.m., the programme being as follows: March, "The Mad Major" (Alford); overture, "William Tell" (Rossini); Intermezzo scene, "In a Persian Market" (Ketelbey); Rhapsody, "Second Hungarian Rhapsody" (Liszt); selection, from "The Huguenots" (Meyerbeer); march, "Vimy Ridge" (Bidgood); valse, "Wedding of the Winds" (Hall); selection, "Robin Hood" (De Koven); serenade, "Lola" (Friedemann); march, "Sylvia" (Viach). God Save the King.

To augment the funds subscribed by the City Council and those being raised by general subscription, the musicians of this city have now in hand arrangements for staging a large citizen's ball at the Armories, the proceeds of which will go toward the general fund. Upon this occasion, one hundred of Victoria's leading professional musicians will unite in giving their services gratuitously to ensure the success of the ball and permit of the full proceeds being handed over for the purpose named.

CONSERVATIVE WINS SEAT IN COMMONS

Actress Wife of Captain Hilton Philipson Polls 12,000 Votes Against Liberals' 5,955

LONDON, June 1.—The news of the victory of Miss Mabel Russell, actress wife of Captain Hilton Philipson, in the Berwick by-election, created a great stir today in the lobby of the House of Commons. Conservative organizers had expected her election, but they had not anticipated that she would achieve such a triumph.

Members of the House who think they may see in Mrs. Philipson anything suggesting the popular conception of a light comedy actress, will be disappointed, as she is quite shy. She makes no pretence to oratory and probably will be heard less in the House than either Lady Astor or Mrs. Wintringham.

Mrs. Philipson, however, will be an interesting recruit at Westminster, which never before had an actor member.

Mrs. Philipson was returned in a by-election today as a member of the House of Commons for the Berwick-on-Tweed division of Northumberland. Running for the Conservative ticket, she polled 12,000 votes against 5,955 for Captain Harold Robson, Liberal, and 3,966 for G. Diver, Labor. The seat was previously held by Miss Russell's husband who lost it because of irregularities by his election agent. Miss Russell will be the third woman to sit in the Commons.

DELEGATES LEAVE LEAGUE SESSION

Immediate Rumor of Rupture on Opium Advisory Commission Proves Incorrect

GENEVA, June 1.—A sensation was caused today at the League of Nation's headquarters during the session of the Opium Advisory Commission when the entire American delegation abruptly left the meeting. There were immediate rumors of a rupture, but this proved incorrect, as the American delegates, not having a vote in view of the American non-membership in the League, retired when their report was presented, with the intention of returning at the afternoon session. Their action, however, met with some adverse criticism.

NO CHANGES NOTED IN LOCAL MARKETS

Only Fluctuations Recorded Are Slight Ones in Connection With Perishable Fruits

With the exception of the usual fluctuation in the matter of perishable early fruits, there was no change in the local market yesterday.

Local strawberries continue to arrive, but the quantity is not large, as the weather conditions are not the best for ripening. The quality of the local fruit is excellent, and berries promise to be large this season. The local product is very attractively put up, and is an excellent advertisement for this district.

To Have Curly, Wavy Hair "Like Nature's Own"

Anyone now can have just the prettiest curls and waves. And they will remain the longest time, when liquid slimerine is used before doing up the hair. When the hair is combed out it will be nice and fluffy. Slimerine is perfectly harmless, of course, and is easily applied with a clean toothbrush. It can be obtained at drug stores and at toilet counters generally, and a few ounces will last for months. It serves also as a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy.

Slimerine is fine for the outdoor girl, as it prevents the hair from straying about the face and neck even when the day is quite warm or windy. A boon to the bobbed haired girl. (Advt.)

Burdock Blood Bitters

Relieved Her of Headaches

Headache seems to be habitual with many people, and some, if any, are seldom free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to the removal of the cause, and with the cause removed the headaches will vanish.

It is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of every description than can equal B. B. B., acting as it does on every organ of the system.

Mrs. Douglas Riseborough, 250 McKenzie St., Sarnia, Ont., writes:—"Having suffered from severe headaches for a considerable length of time I decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and found that it helped me wonderfully. It relieved the headaches, and I noticed a decided improvement in my health."

Burdock Blood Bitters is a remedy that has been on the market for the past forty-four years, so you don't experiment with some new and untried medicine. It is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (Advt.)

REACTION GENERAL ON NEW YORK MARKET

Bankruptcy of Large Curb House Has Effect Upon Trade—Commercial Paper Fairly Active

NEW YORK, June 1.—Stock prices sustained a sharp setback in today's more active market. The rapidity of the recent rise and the disinclination of operators for the advance to extend their commitments at current levels, induced rather extensive short selling by bear traders which was aided by heavy liquidation for the account of curb houses, which were forced to sell stocks on the "big board" to meet obligations arising from the bankruptcy of the largest curb houses.

The reaction covered the entire list, losses in a number of active shares ranging from one to nearly five points.

Little Interest Shown

Public interest in the market was at low ebb. Broker loans now are estimated at $1,720,000,000 or $300,000,000 below those on May 1.

Call money opened at 5½ per cent, but eased off to 4½ before the close. Time money was available at five per cent for all maturities. Commercial paper was fairly active, the bulk of the prime names commanding 5 per cent.

Trading in foreign exchanges was more active with irregular changes in rates. Demand sterling improved slightly to $4.62 11-16 and French francs dropped 3 points to 6.50c. German marks established another new low at 0013 3-8. Norwegian and Greek exchange was strong.

Bonds Also Sagged.

Prices sagged in today's relative dull trading in bonds on the New York Stock Exchange. The high grade investment issues, however, changed but little in the trading with the exception of the Liberty's which turned reactionary. Recession in the active U. S. Governments was expected in view of their consistent firmness of late together with the slight scarcity of time funds over the first of the month period.

Foreign Government issues held firm with light trading. Serbian 8's continued to advance, gaining 1 1-8 points.

Changes among the railroad mortgages generally were limited to fractions.

Total sales, par value, were $9,604,000.

OUTLOOK AGAINST LOWER WHEAT PRICE

Weakness in Wheat Has Had Effect Upon Corn, Otherwise Condition Would Have Been Bullish

CHICAGO, June 1.—Wheat: The market has had little comeback on the bull side today. The unexpected bearish crop reports took the snap out of the buying demand and there was little resistance to selling pressure except when there was a little short covering. India is expected to ship from a surplus estimated at 64,000,000 bushels.

Snow estimates a crop of 612,000,000 bushels Winter wheat and 237,000,000 bushels Spring wheat, making a total crop indicated of 849,000,000 bushels. There is little new crop wheat buying for export. Lower values do not appear warranted by general conditions.

Corn: It was unfortunate for the bulls in corn that wheat had been so weak, as strictly corn news was bullish, with receipts of over thirty-four cars here and fair cash demand, with no evidence of any big country movement. Weather conditions were favorable as a rule, however, and this tended to check the demand at times. The small receipts would give the bulls the advantage, but prices are not likely to advance much, contrary to the trend of wheat. Cash prices were relatively steady, and there were sales of 30,000 bushels. Seaboard export business was of small proportions.

Oats: Easy with wheat. Receipts were small also, but the demand was not at all urgent. Snow estimates the crop at 1,330,000,000 bushels, and the national ginners at 1,275,000,000 bushels. Neither of these estimates suggests an ample supply of oats. Cash markets relatively steady.

PRICES ADVANCE AS MARK COLLAPSES

Serious Situation Exists in Commercial Way in Germany Following a Vicious Circle

BERLIN, June 1.—The German mark continued to drop in the exchange market today. Opening this morning at about 69,500 to the dollar it had by noon reached 72,650.

Close on the heels of the new collapse of the mark has come the inevitable rise in prices affecting virtually every article of daily necessity. The increases range from 50 to 100 per cent as compared with the prevailing prices at the beginning of May. The German people, particularly in Berlin, are finding themselves growing more and more dizzy as they are caught in the vicious circle of new depreciation in the currency, followed by higher wholesale and then by higher retail prices with consequent demands for more wages, then a repetition of the same cycle of events.

During the past few days in Berlin, the retail cost of the most essential foodstuffs has become virtually double that of the first part of May.

Standing at one time yesterday at 70,000 to the dollar, the German mark for the first time slipped below the Austrian crown in value. Before the war 87 gold pfennigs would buy a crown, while today it took 100 paper marks to purchase 95 crowns.

The mark's new slump led the Boerzen Courier to attack Hugo Havenstein, president of the Reichsbank, while the Boerzen Zeitung criticizes both the Reichsbank and the government for what it says is their apparent inactivity in trying to halt the mark's collapse.

CHEERFUL TONE ON LONDON EXCHANGE

Argentine Loan Immediately Subscribed—Western Australia Has New Issue Coming Soon

LONDON, June 1.—Towards the end of the week, the stock exchange displayed a decidedly more cheerful tone, quotations being firmer all round, especially in the gilt-edged section.

Although German marks established a fresh low record of about 330,000 to the pound, and decided dullness was displayed by French, Belgian and Italian currency, the market has persisted in the belief that the very gravity of the reparations crisis must tend to hasten some further attempts at a solution, and rumors have been freely abroad concerning fresh offers by Germany.

There was a disbursement of £50,000,000 in dividends on British war loans on Thursday. The new Argentine loan for 2,225,000 pounds in five per cent bonds at 86½ was instantly subscribed, the yield allowing for the fact that the full six months coupon is payable July 1, working out at nearly six per cent.

Western Australia is about to float a £2,000,000 4½ per cent loan at 95, and other colonial issues are expected in the near future. It is only a little more than a year since Western Australia raised two million pounds sterling on the London market on 5 per cent bonds at the price of 95, which is now quoted at 102.

BREAK IN COTTON ON NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 1.—The cotton market broke over $5 a bale today, carrying July contracts off to $25.95, and October to $23.26. The trade sold heavily on bearish crop reports from Texas and a belief that conditions over the whole belt were likely to improve this month.

British Petroleums Incorporated

OTTAWA, June 1.—The only Western company whose incorporation is gazetted this week is British Petroleums, Limited, Vancouver, $5,000,000.

CROP OUTLOOK IN CANADA IS GOOD

BANK OF MONTREAL COMPILES REPORT FOR DOMINION

Season Is Late One Throughout Considerable Part of Country—Conditions Otherwise Favorable

The Bank of Montreal, through the excellent medium it possesses by means of the branch managers of gathering information relative to the crops throughout Canada, has just issued a report compiled from these sources, received telegraphically, and giving the general conditions in the respect at the end of May. This report, dealing with the Dominion in general, says: Heavy rains have greatly improved growing crops throughout the Prairie Provinces and seeding has been practically completed under good weather conditions. The general outlook is favorable. In Quebec plowing has not yet been completed, but despite the backward Spring, the crops sown are in healthy condition. In Ontario rain has retarded seeding. The season is fully two weeks late, but vegetation is recovering from the setback. In the Maritime Provinces conditions are still unfavorable and little seeding has been done. Fruit trees have wintered well. In British Columbia prospects are good for all crops, except potatoes and small fruits. Details are as follows:

Prairie Provinces

Edmonton district—Over the week-end one and one-half inches of rain fell; the heaviest in two years. Seeding about completed. Outlook promising.

Calgary district—With exception of from Brooks eastward, district has benefitted from heavy rains. Seeding practically finished. Pastures much improved. General outlook favorable. Wheat well above ground.

Lethbridge district—Moisture conditions good. Wheat well above ground. Sixty per cent coarse grains seeded. Hay and range grass in good condition. Prospects favorable.

Saskatoon district—Wheat seeding completed under favorable conditions. Seeding other grains will be finished in few days. Farmers have land well worked. Acreage slightly larger than last year. Most districts had rain during past few days. Prospects good, pastures in fair condition.

Regina district — Wheat seeding completed under favorable conditions. Seeding coarse grains will be finished in about ten days. Weather has been dry, but moisture sufficient for germination and situation improved by general rain. Prospects satisfactory.

Winnipeg district—Wheat seeding completed. Grain in many places showing well above ground. Seeding coarse grains near completion. Ample moisture and good growing weather. Fall rye promising crop and to the south now in short blade.

Eastern Provinces

Province of Quebec—Plowing has not been completed in some districts owing to the wetness of the lowlands. Seeding is being done as rapidly as possible and crops that are in, though backward, are in a healthy condition. With warm weather growth should be rapid. Meadows and pasturage are showing up well.

Province of Ontario—Abundance of rain throughout the Province has retarded seeding somewhat. Late frosts in some sections, but no serious damage has been done. Wheat gives good promise with fair acreage. Hay promises to be an average crop. With clover a good crop, abundance of pasturage is anticipated. Growth of late has been rapid, and vegetation is recovering from the setback caused by the cold Spring. Conditions generally are satisfactory.

Maritime Provinces—Season two or three weeks late and conditions still unfavorable. Little seeding done as yet, though planting of potatoes now in progress. Fruit trees wintered well; apple trees now in bud.

Province of British Columbia—Prospects good for crops in all lines except potatoes and small fruits. Weather conditions favorable, with ample moisture, except in Ashcroft and Merritt districts. Seeding is completed.

In the Okanagan Valley all fruits have set well and indicate large crops. Winter apples especially heavy. Range and pasturage are above average, except in lower Cariboo and Nicola Valley, where rain is badly needed. Grasshopper plague feared in the Nicola district.

Esquimalt Calls for Volunteer Reserves

Fifty-One Men Wanted at Once to Fill Ranks of Victoria Half Company—Civilians to Train as Sailors of R. C. N. V. R.—Training Afloat and Ashore

IN any scheme of national defence for any country, it is absolutely necessary that reserve forces should be maintained. With this object in view the Royal Canadian Navy is organizing a force known as the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve. This force is being recruited throughout Canada, with minor headquarters in the most important towns from coast to coast. The R.C.N.V.R. will be run on very similar lines to the Canadian Militia, substituting naval training for army training, and a few other minor details.

The Volunteers

The instructors will be fully qualified expart instructors of the Royal Canadian Navy, ex-Royal Navy instructors in most cases, and the training they will give will be both interesting and helpful in civilian as well as in naval life. This instruction will ba given under such circumstances that it will cost tha volunteers nothing. The value of the instruction will, in fact, more than repay the time employed. The civilian employment of the volunteers will not be interfered with, it is anticipated, by the naval training.

Periods of enrolment will be for a term of three years. On tha conclusion of this term, the volunteer will be eligible for discharge if he so wishes, or he may sign on for a further period of three years. This may be done up to a total of ten terms of enrolment, making thirty years service in all.

The service required of the volunteers will ba in two phases—to attend instructions for one hour each week, to ba known as drills; and, to serve for two weeks per year at a naval base, this two weeks to ba known as naval training. The naval training may take place at any time during tha period from April 1 to Septembar 30, to suit the volunteer's own convenience.

In addition to the above service, they may volunteer to serve afloat in a ship of the R.C.N. for four months during any one period of enrolment. Their total service afloat, if they so wish, may tharafore be ten periods of four months, but not to run consecutively. This service, as well as the two weeks' naval training, will be on full pay, as if the volunteer belonged to the R.C.N.

Training

The volunteers will ba trained to tho following positions or trades: Seamen, signalmen, wireless telegraphists, buglers, cooks, engineers, electricians, motor mechanics, carpenters, stokers, clerks, etc.

The age limits are at present from 18 to 32, but these are now under ravision. Men who have served for two years in the Boys' Naval Brigade may ba entered at the age of 17, as ordinary seamen.

The scale of pay is as follows:

(a) 25c per drill, up to a maximum of 30 drills per year.

(b) $5 bonus for attending 40 or more drills per year.

(c) $2.50 bonus annually, for qualifying in a special subject.

(d) $1.65 minimum, $4.05 maximum, per day as pay during naval training and voluntary service afloat.

(e) $25 bonus if any man is called into active service.

Free uniform and kit is supplied to each man after he has been accepted for service in the volunteers.

With regard to sport, etc., the Victoria half company will have a contingent fund of $500 per year to pay for such items as prizes, bands, recreation, casual labor, insurance and trophies, competition and display expense, rifle range markers, etc.

Any men wishing to join the R.C.N.V.R. should apply for further particulars to the R.C.N.V.R. office, care of R.C.N. Barracks, Admiral's Road, Esquimalt, phone 1080, or to the secretary, Navy League of Canada, Pembarton Building, Victoria; phone 1405.

The Time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods, without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any tide, add 19.9 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

LONE NAVIGATOR COMES TO GRIEF

CRAFT TOSSED ON ROCKS WITH ITS ONE-MAN CREW

Henry Nelson, of San Francisco, Suffers From Hunger and Exposure in Drift at Sea

NEWPORT, Ore., June 1.—The fishing sloop Doak, owned by Henry Nelson, of San Francisco, went on the rocks early today on the north side of Yaquina Head Light. The craft was pulled off by the coast guard cutter and towed into this harbor. Nelson unaccompanied, left Bodega, Calif., in the sloop last Friday, bound for Fort Bragg. His gasoline supply became exhausted and his batteries gave out. He attempted sailing but made no progress. His provisions also gave out as he drifted north for the past four days. The sloop was not damaged when it went ashora today. Nelson suffered from lack of food and exposure. His hands and feet were badly swollen.

PROSPECTOR GETS TURN IN DRYDOCK

Here for Cleaning and Painting by Yarrows—Leaving Again Tonight for Mainland

The Canadian Prospector, of the C. G. M. M., is back from Vancouver for cleaning and painting in drydock. The vessel reached Esquimalt yesterday morning, but it was so windy during the day that it was impossible to float her into the dock. This was done last night whan the breeze subsided. She will be in the basin all day today, and out again tonight and away for tha first loading port for her next voyage. Yarrows Limited are doing the work on the steamer.

The Canadian Transporter should have reached quarantine during the night. She is from Australia via Honolulu, and at eight o'clock Thursday night was only 240 miles from Flattery.

Two ships of the C.G. M. M. are reported at Adelaide together. They are the Canadian Britisher and the Canadian Importer, both of which arrived at the Australian port May 26. Both were from Vancouver.

GERMAN SHIP GETS AWAY TO SEA TODAY

No Serious Trouble Aboard Theben—Inspectors Pronounce Boilers Fit—Sails This Morning

The German steamer Theben of the Kosmos Line, which has been at Esquimalt for the best part of a week while her boilers have been cleaned and tested, is expected to put to sea, bound for New York, this morning about nine o'clock city time. Since her arrival at Esquimalt last Saturday, nothing materially wrong has been discovered with the boilers. During the past couple of days Yarrows have been busy cleaning them out and making good minor deficiencies, and the vessel leaves port today pronounced in good shape by the inspectors.

AUSTRALIA PUTS TO SEA FROM ANCHORAGE

Empress Passengers Join Her From Tender—May Get White Quartermasters in Place of Chinese

The Empress of Australia sailed for the Orient yesterday at noon without having docked here. The big liner decided to remain in the Royal Roads and have a tender sent out. The Princess Maquinna went out from the Inner Harbor at 9.30 a.m., taking along mails and baggage, together with passengers joining the steamer at this port. She was alongside the transpacific ship more than an hour making the transfer. The Australia got away to sea just before noon, sixteen hours behind schedule.

It is reported that the conference at Montreal between Captain S. Robinson, regular master of the Australia, and the heads of the steamship company will deal in part with the question of the Chinese quartermasters on the liner. It is said that there has been some difficulty experienced in holding her true to her course with Chinese wheelmen, and it is possible that as a result of Captain Robinson's visit to Montreal, white men will be placed on the job on this ship. White quartermasters were formerly employed on all the Canadian Pacific transpacific ships, but a few years ago experienced sailors were so hard to secure that Chinese were finally taken on in that capacity. In many respects the Oriental is said to have proved more satisfactory than the white, as he is sober and reliable, not only at sea, but in port also.

HUSBAND DIDN'T DARE LEAVE HER ALONE HEART WAS SO BAD

Those feelings of faintness, those dizzy spells, the all-gone sinking sensations which come on from time to time indicate a weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

have no equal as a remedy to strengthen the heart, invigorate the nerves and build up the run-down system.

Mrs. C. Vanhorn, Eckville, Alta., writes:—"About a year ago I had heart trouble. My husband didn't dare leave me alone, and often had to stay up at night with me. I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would just faint away, and it would sometimes be an hour before they could bring me back to life. Someone told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got three boxes; I took them and felt much better, so continued all Winter, and now I never feel any such faintness. I surely do appreciate the good they have done for me."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (ADVT.)

Women's Institutes of British Columbia, for the Provincial Department of Agriculture, has organized small conferences on behalf of the Royal Sanitary Institution at both Victoria and Vancouver, was tha first woman to read a paper at a Canadian Club convention, and was honored by the University of Toronto with an invitation to give the inaugural address at the opening of the Lillian Treble building.

In 1916-'17 she made an extensive tour through the United States in connection with the first international course on home economics, and in 1919 was director of home economics at Utah State University.

Miss Ravenhill is, at the present time, engaged in finishing a new book which it is expected will be published the coming Autumn.

Tha foregoing represents merely an outline of the principal activities of a life that, until recent years, was crowded with effective benevolent activity. Miss Ravenhill has, to a great extent, created her own sphere of usefulness. She not only possessed the vision to perceive, but the ability to inspire others with the needs and opportunities she herself clearly saw. Her methods of achieving these were as efficient and practical as her perception of the requirements was intense an clear. To an unusual degree she possessed the gift of attracting co-operation and help from those on whom she succeeded in impressing her own views, and, largely as a consequence of this, the enormous development of the past quarter of a century in the various fields to which Miss Ravenhill has devoted her energies and powers must be ascribed.

The collection of books accumulated by such a worker during her period of activity must, it is evident, be one of unusual value, and the university is to be congratulated, not merely on the acquisition of this collection, but also on the interest of so distinguished a worker in social and sanitary science that prompted her to make the donation.

LEADS ORCHESTRA ON PRINCESS LOUISE

Mr. Charles Hunt, of Victoria, Engaged to Direct Four-Piece Organization on Steamer

The Princess Louise, which left Vancouver last night on her first trip of the Summer to Alaska, has again signed on an orchestra for the season, as was done last year when the steamer was first commissioned. Mr. Charles Hunt, the well known orchestra leader of Victoria, is at the head of the ship's musical organization, a four-piece aggregation.

FAST CRUISER TO BE HANDED OVER

TACOMA, Wn., June 1.—The scout cruiser Milwaukee left her berth at the Todd Shipyards here this morning to undergo her acceptance trials, which will be final unless unexpected defects are discovered. The Pacific Coast Naval Acceptance Board accompanied the vessel. The Milwaukee will be put through a four hour test on such manouvers as may be called for by the navy officers and an attempt may be made to exceed the speed record established May 22, when the big fighting ship developed a speed of 36.4 knots an hour on the second of her builders' trial runs to the strait of Juan de Fuca.

NIAGARA SAILING

The Niagara of the Canadian Australasian Line sails for Honolulu and the Antipodes today. The vessel was posted yesterday to leave Vancouver at midnight and to get away from Victoria this morning.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT OF B.C. TEACHERS

SEATTLE, June 1.—Final arrangements for the entertainment of British Columbia teachers, who will spend tomorrow in Seattle as guests of the public schools, are reported complete by Mr. H. B. Spalding, of the Vocational Department, who will have the party in charge. A tour of the city and schools will be broken by a luncheon at Roosevelt High School and tea at the Girls' Parental School. Automobiles will meet the party at 9:45 a.m. tomorrow at the county-city building.

SEATTLE, June 1.—The monthly meeting of the Northern division of the Pacific Westbound conference was held here today. Eight steamship companies in traffic on the Pacific Ocean were represented. L.
